MONDALE, LANCE SPEAK IN DETROIT

Car Emissions Rule Threatens Economy

By GUY DABST
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — An auto industry shutdown because of failure by Congress to resolve its disagreements over pollution standards could spell economic disaster, top administration officials are warning.

Vice President Walter Mondale and Budget Director Bert Lance gave similar assessments Wednesday in separate trips to address the National Association of Counties here.

"In consequence of the relationship of the auto industry to the rest of the economy, it could have a disastrous impact. It's exactly what we don't need to happen right now," Mondale told reporters.

Earlier, Lance told reporters a shutdown "obviously would have a very severe impact on our economy. I hope that will not be the case."

Neither official suggested the industry was "just crying wolf again as usual," a phrase used by Eric O. Stork, an official of the Environmental Protection Agency, in a speech here July 13.

The industry says it cannot legally ship 1978-model cars unless Congress agrees on amendments to the 1970 Clean Air Act.

Both houses have agreed to extend current standards through 1978, but differ on details and timing for the period after that.

The question is before a conference committee and House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. has pledged to keep Congress in session into the scheduled August vacation if necessary to resolve it.

Mondale, whose speech was devoted largely to the virtues of the administration's job-creating measures, said, "Obviously, there's got to be some give in all directions" in getting an agreement.

And though warning against a shutdown, he insisted the administration was committed to environmental protection.

"We feel a compromise must include a proper concern for the environment ... we don't think this should be solved by forgetting the environment."

Lance said his own Office of Management and Budget had not prepared figures on the result of a shutdown but he had seen estimates from the Council of Economic Advisers predicting $500 million in lost wages every week.

On impacts on his personal economy, Lance said all he knew of a reported sale of his stock put Lance in the position of facing a $1.6 million loss if it were sold.

Reports from Washington said Lance's trustee had found a buyer for the 200,707 shares at nearly $17 a share, almost what Lance paid for it with borrowed money.

That price would mean a loss of only $75,000 for Lance, a result he called "doing fairly well" if consumed.

Miami Killers Pose As Workmen

By MALCOLM GIBSON

MIAMI (AP) — Six men were killed and a man and woman wounded in what police called an "execution-type" slaying in a middle class suburban area northwest of Miami.

ficer for Dade County police, said the bodies of the men were found late Wednesday lined up in two of three bedrooms in the ranch-style home.

Page said all the men had been shot with "a large caliber weapon." But he said investigators do not yet know if more than one gun had been used.

Page said the house was "obviously searched" by the killers. "They were looking for something," he said.

Neighbors identified the home owner as Livingston Stocker. It was not immediately known if Stocker, who has lived there for five years, was one of the victims.

Officers said they believed they knew the identities of some of the victims, but would not release details.

Police said they were looking for three men. Witnesses said they saw the three leaving the scene in a white and maroon 1977 Thunderbird, which belonged to one of the victims.

Authorities said the wounded man and woman were taken to Parkway General Hospital. They were identified as Johnnie Hall, 45, and Margaret Wooden, 25. Hall was in serious condition with a gunshot wound to the head. Miss Wooden was reported in good condition.

Homicide Investigator Tom Lawley said the assailants did not force their way into the home, but were admitted. He said the killers posed as Florida Power and Light Co. workmen and told the occupants they were there "to check out a short."

He said the assailants entered the home about 9 p.m. and left about an hour later.

A crowd of about 50 persons quickly gathered in the yard next door to the white and green home as police and fire rescue units rushed in. As news spread, friends and relatives began arriving. They were taken into a neighbor's house.

A neighbor, Patricia Clayton, was among them. She said Stocker had called her husband Henry about 9 p.m. and asked him to come pick up a friend.

"He said he was going to Stocker's house to pick up the wife and he said he'd be right back to eat dinner," she said. Her husband did not return and the woman could not learn what had happened to him from police.

Miss Wooden was shot behind the ear but managed to get to the next-door home of Julius Davis.

Clark Picks Chief For Local Division

Charles A. Kiorpes has been appointed vice president and general manager of the construction machinery division of Clark Equipment company, headquartered in Benton Township. It was announced today by Leo J. McKernan, group vice president.

Kiorpes replaces E. T. Donahue who resigned the position earlier this year. McKernan said.

In a separate announcement, the company reported that its second quarter sales and earnings were up slightly from the same quarter a year ago.

Net income for the second quarter of the current year was $15.3 million, or $1.11 per share, on sales of $335.5 million. In the comparable period in 1976, net income was $15.1 million, or $1.10 per share, on sales of $327.5 million.

Kiorpes came to Clark from the White Motor corporation, Cleveland, where he last served as senior vice president for operations. He joined White Motor in 1971 as vice president for manufacturing and was elected group vice president for trucks in 1972. Prior to his association with White Motor, Kiorpes spent 22 years with the Ford Motor company in various management positions.

Kiorpes, 53, holds a B.S. degree in industrial engineering from the Columbia University School of Engineering. He is married and has three children.

For the first six months of 1977, Clark reported net income of $31.9 million, or $2.32 per share, on sales of $673.2 million. This compares with net income of $26.2 million, or $1.92 per share, on sales of $639.4 million for the same period in 1976.

Pre-tax income improved even more significantly as the company's tax assumption for 1977 is higher than that for the previous year.

Although second quarter 1977 earnings were slightly less than in the first quarter of this year, both the first quarter and first six months' operating earnings for 1977 are the highest of any quarter and six month period in Clark's history.

Improvement in both net income and sales can be attributed to a strong showing in North America, where sales in most product lines are ahead of a year ago, the company said. Business overseas has not yet matched this domestic improvement.

Bert E. Phillips, Clark president and chief executive officer, stated that "sales and operating earnings for the full year 1977 should be better than last year, and business should start out strong in 1978."

Phillips points to increased activity in the construction machinery business, particularly the demand for tractor shovels and timber skidders, as one reason for the improvement.

"Our material handling business continues to hold up well domestically. Sales of axles and transmissions for off-highway use, such as construction, have also shown steady improvement," he said.

"In addition, Melroe Bahent skid-steer loader sales show increases, but the demand for Melroe agricultural equipment has been weak, due to the drought in primary marketing areas," Phillips said.

Phillips announced plans to begin production of front-end loaders at Clark's new Asheville, N.C., plant during the third quarter. Axle production is scheduled to begin in the fourth quarter at the new plant in Statesville, N.C. He also announced the move of the overseas components distribution center from LaPorte, Ind., to a new leased facility in Kalamazoo.

Johnson Is Bound Over In Bangor Queen's Death

By TOM RENNER

SOUTH HAVEN — A Bangor man charged with the brutal murder of Bangor's Centennial queen told police he found her stuffed in the trunk of a car the morning she was slain, a policeman testified in court here yesterday.

Det. Sgt. Robert Rank, of the state police post at South Haven, testified Carl Lee Johnson said in his statement that Terri Lynn Wilson appeared to be alive when he found her.

Rank's testimony came during a daylong preliminary examination in Seventh District court here for Johnson who is charged with first degree murder and murder while in perpetration or attempted perpetration of rape as a result of the death.

Miss Wilson, 18, of Bangor, a June honors graduate from Bangor high school, was reigning over Bangor's Centennial celebration when killed. Her body, clad only in a halter-type top, was found stuffed in the trunk of the car she had been driving about a mile from her home early July 4.

Police said the car was found on 16th street near M-13 about three miles from a trailer off 65th street where police believed the assault had occurred. She had been brutally beaten about the head, stabbed 30 times and sexually assaulted.

Johnson, 19, of 10 High street, Bangor, was bound over to Van Buren circuit court to stand trial on the murder charges by Judge Donald M. Goodwillie, Jr., following the preliminary examination.

Rank, in his testimony, said that Johnson in his statement told police he spotted Miss Wilson's car off 65th street as he was driving around in the early morning hours of July 4.

In the statement, Johnson admitted having been with Miss Wilson at the Derby tavern in South Haven late the night before.

According to Rank, Johnson said he sneaked up on the car intending to surprise Miss Wilson but that as he jerked open the driver's side door saw blood and a tire iron.

Johnson said he then saw Miss Wilson in the trunk with an arm and leg sticking out.

Rank testified. He said in the statement she appeared to be alive, but unconscious Rank said.

Motorcyclist Dies In Crash

DECATUR — A Decatur man was killed early this morning when he lost control of his motorcycle and struck a road sign just west of the village limits here, according to state police at Paw Paw.

James J. Grandstaff, 27, of 120 Pine street, was pronounced dead on arrival at Lake View Community hospital, Paw Paw. Trooper Roger Gentry said Grandstaff was headed south-west on M-51 when he lost control of the motorcycle, rolled over several times and hit a no passing sign with the back of his head. Gentry said Grandstaff continued another 28 feet before coming to a rest.

The 3:15 a.m. accident brought to 19 the number of traffic deaths on Van Buren county roads this year.

Funeral arrangements were incomplete this forenoon at Newell funeral home, Decatur.

New Jersey Man Mugged 83 Times

Police confirm that Mike Maryn, 56, of Passaic, N.J., has been mugged 83 times. He has been hospitalized over 20 times, been stabbed, shot at and hit on the head with a pipe during these attacks. His car was partly cut off, his nose broken, ribs kicked in, he's had teeth knocked out and his skull fractured during the past five years. He is broke and applying for welfare. (AP Wirephoto)

Stemming The Epidemic Of Teenage Pregnancies

Back in 1975, the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare published a study called "Approaches to Adolescent Health Care in the 1970s." The study said:

"The sequelae of unplanned conception and venereal disease can be extremely serious for the immature girl and her baby. Therefore, the opportunity for health education, birth control, and prenatal care should be priority goals in any program for adolescents. The option for abortion counseling and services should be available within the limits of the law."

Since that statement was made, adolescent pregnancies have increased so rapidly in the U.S. that they constitute an epidemic. Each year, more than one million 15- to 19-year-olds become pregnant. (Two-thirds of these pregnancies are conceived out of wedlock.) In addition, some 30,000 girls younger than 15 get pregnant annually.

So what has happened? Has Congress provided more funds for birth control, sex education and abortion counseling? On the contrary, prodded by President Jimmy Carter and his HEW secretary, Joseph Califano, Congress has voted to cut off funds for abortions.

Carter and Califano have proposed "alternatives to abortion" which they find morally acceptable. But their "alternatives" won't prevent unwanted pregnancies, according to a coalition of family planning, population and public health organizations.

The Carter administration has proposed two alternatives to federal funding of abortions: subsidies for families who adopt "hard cases" such as handicapped or older children, and maternity benefits under Medicaid for poor women who agreed to put their children up for adoption.

Frederick S. Jaffe, president of Planned Parenthood's Alan Guttmacher Institute, says that while the adoption-subsidy proposal was good, it could not make a dent in the problems facing the 250,000 to 300,000 medically indigent women who seek abortions each year under the state-federal Medicaid program.

As for the provision of maternity benefits for poor women who put their children up for adoption, Jaffe says, the proposal would create a "breeder class" without solving the underlying problem of unwanted pregnancies.

A plan drawn up by the coalition and submitted to the White House calls for an increase in federal fundings of family planning, sex education and contraceptive research programs from the current fiscal 1978 request of $225 million to $785 million by 1981.

The plan — backed by seven groups, including Planned Parenthood, the American Public Health Association, the National Family Planning Forum (which represents 3,000 family-planning clinics) and the Population Institute — would cut the incidence of unwanted pregnancies and births in half in three years, according to Jaffe.

But all members of the coalition said it would not eliminate the need for abortion services and would only succeed in slowing the expected increase in the number of abortions performed each year.

Jaffe says that lack of access to abortion services in many parts of the country has kept the number of abortions artificially low. If all women who wanted abortions could receive them, he said, closer to 1.8 million would have been performed in 76, compared with the actual figure of 1.1 million.

Admittedly, abortion is not as good a solution to the epidemic of teenage pregnancies as self-restraint. But it's an infinitely better solution than the millions of unwanted babies who are born to mothers neither able nor especially concerned about caring for their children. Until Congress can guarantee continence among teenagers, it had better provide funds for sex education and, when that misses, abortions.

This week's Time magazine "Essay," incidentally, has a wry comment on the "morality" of the Carter-Califano opposition to abortion funding:

"... Fairness and logic dictate that if (abortion) must be available especially to those who, wanting it, cannot afford it. To say that abortion, while legal, is immoral but that only the poor shall be saved from this immorality by fastidious government is not only unfair but absurd."

Energy Policy Is Puzzling

Reports that administration energy officials are considering gasoline rationing or some other form of restriction on fuel consumption are puzzling. If Congress will not approve a standby tax on gasoline to reduce consumption, it is not likely to put its imprint on rationing.

Such extreme measures are acceptable only in the face of emergencies. The public, and through it the Congress, have demonstrated that neither is convinced the time has come for favoring the stick over the carrot.

Then Along Came...

Blast Rips Market

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — An explosion ripped through an open-air market in the Negev Desert town of Beersheba in southern Israel today, wounding 25 persons, local officials reported.

One person was seriously hurt, a hospital spokesman said.

The state radio said police rounded up a number of suspects.

The blast, apparently the work of Arab terrorists, was the third bombing in Israel within 24 hours and it came as police and security forces went on alert to prevent terrorist attacks.

On Wednesday a bomb exploded in a Tel Aviv open-air market, wounding 11 persons, two of them seriously. Several hours later a bomb blew up under a car in Jerusalem, but no injuries were reported.

Police arrested an Arab youth as a suspect in the Tel Aviv bombing.

'WE ARE GOING TO HAVE TO DO IT'

Editor, I had the privilege of attending a meeting in Benton Heights that the townspeople held to discuss how and what to do to dispose of the adult book store.

One of the speakers whose name I won't mention made it clear that the Michigan Legislature cannot do anything about this situation. Now, when they tell us they can't do anything about this sort of thing, that tells us that we no longer have any laws in our state and when they do that, it means that if we want to do something to clean up our villages and towns and our country, yes, and our state, then we, ourselves are going to have to do it in the best way we see fit.

I bring home $82.08 per week, on which I am supposed to support my 11 year old son and myself. I cannot even afford a place to live by myself, so we are forced to live with friends. Most places want a deposit which is impossible for me to save up, because I pay to stay with my friends plus buying our own groceries.

I guess ADC is just for people who are too lazy to work or are dishonest. If someone tries to help themselves, then the state won't lend a helping hand. I know of women who have remarried, and are still drawing ADC. It would seem as though their husbands income would have some effect on their grant from the state.

MAKING TOO MUCH MONEY FOR ADC

Editor, I would like a few questions answered, if anyone can, concerning ADC. Recently I had the opportunity (?) to apply for ADC. I was turned down because I "make too much money."

Do You REMEMBER?

— 10 Years Ago —

The 29 communities involved in the Southwestern Michigan Blossom Festival can take pride in another honor bestowed on the festival, George Mirabal, Blossomtime manager, announced today. The Blossomtime Grand Floral Parade was in a calendar of great parades that appeared in the July issue of "Today's Health Magazine," published by the American Medical Association. Of the thousands of parades staged each year across the United States and Canada, only 34 achieved this recognition. The calendar appeared with an article on parade safety.

— 25 Years Ago —

WASHINGTON, July 28 — (AP) — Radar — which normally doesn't show something that isn't there — has picked up "flying saucers" near the national capitol for the second time within a week. Jet fighter pilots searched the skies without directly contacting anything during the six hours that four to 2 unidentified objects intermittently appeared on radar screens at Washington national airport and nearby Andrews air force base. Officials carefully avoided mentioning "flying saucers" just as they did when radar picked up seven or eight unidentified objects near Washington last Monday. But the air force was expected to add the report to its long list of saucer sightings, which officials say are coming in faster than at any time since the initial flurry in 1947.

— 50 Years Ago —

As a result of the Michigan Field club meeting in Chicago, yesterday evening, it was said today that in all probability the club project is to be revived and an effort made to carry the original plan through to eventual accomplishment. For the past year or so four local men, original members of the club, have been carrying the lead in an effort to perfect the club's investment in the lands which the club agreed to buy. The men are Atty. H.S. Gray, C.K. Minary, W.H. Baker and H.B. Ross.

— 75 Years Ago —

Mrs. Elizabeth Lawrence was honored last evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Myra Gray, Edwards avenue, Benton Harbor, on the occasion of her 80th birthday. There is doubtless not another living resident of Benton Harbor whose life is more closely identified with the early life and growth of the city than that of Mrs. Lawrence. Her husband, the late Richard Lawrence assisted in building their first home, known as the Brunson house, upon the bluffs. It was the first residence built within the city limits.

It's kind of interesting to go to the ADC office and see the parade of beautiful cars the state is buying. I drive a beat up old '69 Pontiac which is not paid for. If I didn't need a car to get back and forth to work, I wouldn't even have one, as it is, I bought it from a friend and I pay what I can when I can and someday I might get it paid for.

Why are honest people punished for trying to support themselves? I didn't ask them to totally support us, just lend a helping hand (I can find a better job. I am supposed to be getting child support of $10 per week, which I get once in a while. The state could have that gladly if they would help me temporarily, but, no, because I try to help myself and I am willing to help myself they turn me down.

I would just like to know why?

FBI Insiders

Fear Reformer

WASHINGTON — A behind-the-scenes power struggle involving two senior officials of the Federal Bureau of Investigation has emerged as a major element in President Carter's politically sensitive search for a new director.

The central figures in the heated feud are both among the finalists in the competition for the job of leading the bureau: John A. Mintz, the FBI's general counsel for the past three years, and Neil John Welch a veteran of 24 years of FBI service and currently special agent in charge of its Philadelphia field office.

Welch's name was one of five forwarded to Carter for the final winning process by the nine-member selection committee appointed by the President earlier in the year to screen all candidates for the position.

Mintz, 41, was not on the official list of five finalists submitted to the White House, but he reportedly was the favorite of businessman Irving S. Shapiro, chairman of the screening committee; Mary C. Lawton, the Justice Department official in charge of providing staff support to the selection committee, and Clarence M. Kelley, the outgoing director.

Even more important, in the weeks since the committee made public its recommendations, Mintz has emerged as the candidate of many old-line senior officials of the FBI most of them proteges of the late J. Edgar Hoover.

That "old boy network" has dominated the FBI for decades, and its need for an "establishment"-oriented insider as crucial in the post-Hoover era, when the bureau has become the object of derision, criticism and lawsuits alleging a widespread pattern of extrajudicial activities.

The four contenders officially recommended by the screening committee in addition to Welch were John J. Irwin Jr., an associate justice of the Massachusetts Supreme Court; John K. Van deKamp, the Los Angeles County district attorney; Harlington A. Wood Jr., a judge on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 7th Circuit in Chicago; and William J. Lucas, the Wayne County, Mich. sheriff in Detroit.

The chances of Irwin, Van deKamp or Wood being selected are impaired by the enormous pressure from bureau "insiders" for selection of one of their own as head of the controversy-wracked organization.

Moreover, if Carter is determined to reform the bureau, an FBI personality, policies and politics would stand a far better chance than an outsider of bringing about the needed major overhaul.

Welch and Lucas, an FBI special agent in the mid-1960s, were the only two men on the list of five finalists with bureau experience. But Lucas is black — a major liability within the politically conservative FBI "establishment" dominated by white males.

Welch, 51, is white, but he is distrusted within the hierarchy because of his contempt for the widespread counter-intelligence program (Comintpro), aimed at real and imagined political dissidents and the "black bag jobs" (unauthorized break-ins) which have so badly tarnished the FBI's image.

Instead, Welch has emphasized a "quality case" program which focuses on investigation of organized crime, white collar crime and corruption in government, labor and business. That's precisely the direction in which the entire I ought to be heading.

But the "good old boys" within the bureau view the prospect of a savvy reformer in the director's office as a very real threat to their hegemony. Even before the White House made public the list of the five official finalists, Mintz surfaced as an unofficial but strong sixth contender.

Mintz happens to be a native of Carter's home state of Georgia, a fact FBI veterans hope will help as they press hard for his acceptance — and Welch's rejection — at the White House.

Soviet Campaign Against Israel

In a recent column, I pointed out that plans are well advanced to exclude Israel as well as other pariah nations from the 1980 Moscow Olympics. I observed that this would represent one more step, and a major symbolic one, in the delegitimation of the Jewish state.

My column produced a considerable response, and some skepticism. Robert J. Kane, president of the U.S. Olympic Committee, poo-pooed the whole idea, citing Soviet "guarantees." Kane and others also pointed out that the Soviets have a large stake in the Games and do not want any trouble.

Well, Soviet plans call for the exclusion of Israel in a way that they hope will avoid trouble. How? By the time the Moscow Games roll around Israel will be illegible.

My information comes from Joachim Maitre. He is a former member of the East German Nordic ski team. Later a journalist on the West German newspaper Die Welt, he has just spent a year at Stanford and has written a stunning book about the backstage political realities of the Olympics. It is entitled "The Olympics in an Era of Confrontation."

Here is how the sly Soviet Third World plan is going to work. There are 26 Olympic federations based on the 26 recognized Olympic events. The Israelis do not belong to all 26, because they do not field teams in all events, e.g. winter sports. In order to participate in the Moscow Olympics, a nation must belong to five or more federations.

Under relentless pressure from the Soviets and from Third World "progressive" nations, the Israelis are being forced out of one of these federations after another, usually on a technicality.

Thus, Israel was excluded from the European soccer federation on the grounds that it is not a European nation. However Turkey remains in the European federation.

When the real crunch comes, the weapon against the Israelis will be the outrageous U.N. vote on Zionism and racism. Third World delegates will show up at the federation meetings with the U.N. resolution and will demand the exclusion of Israel. After all, South Africa has already been thrown out of the Olympics on grounds of racism.

The pattern has been clear for some time.

At their 1976 Congress, held in Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, members of the Asian Games Federation voted not to invite Israel on the transparently phony grounds of "security." It was claimed that Israel's participation in international sports constituted a security risk for all involved, a delegate from India calculated the cost of protecting the Israeli athletes and found them "exorbitant."

In November 1976 the world chess championships were scheduled for Haifa, Israel. The Soviets cranked up a campaign to the effect that the Israelis could not guarantee the security of the participants. When the international chess federation, FIDE, rejected the claim, the Soviet Union, Hungary, and Yugoslavia walked out. These were the 1, 2, and 3 chess nations in the world. They competed instead in the chess "International Olympics" held in Lajva.

Zollar's Summer Break: Tinkering And Thinking

By RALPH LUTZ
Staff Writer

State Sen. Charles Zollar says he's renewing old acquaintances, spending pleasant hours repairing clocks in his Benton township antique shop, and making no commitment yet on whether to seek re-election next year.

Zollar in 1978 will begin his 14th year in the Senate where he served nine years as chairman of the Appropriations committee when Republicans held a majority.

"I have little hope for the GOP to take a majority next year, in four years, or eight years," Zollar said Tuesday. He said this will be a consideration in future plans. "No, I've made no commitment, yet," he added.

The Legislature reconvenes Sept. 14, and Zollar sees money as causing the major fights.

He predicted a battle to block union efforts to provide non-teaching public school employees with unemployment benefits during summer vacations. He looks for a real effort to amend the single business tax, but doesn't see much chance of success.

And, Zollar believes there will be efforts to raise the state income tax rate from the present 4.6 per cent to perhaps 5.3 or 5.4 per cent, to finance mass transportation and more prisons.

"I'll vote against this," Zollar said, adding that Michigan definitely is going to be spending more money than it gets in revenue. "And that 'lay away' fund won't amount to a drop in the bucket."

The state constitution requires a balanced budget. Zollar said, however, that government budgets differently than private business. He cited a fiscal year extension to 15 months on one occasion, but doesn't look for this again.

Among inflation creators, Zollar listed environmentalists, who he said will cost business millions of dollars through the clean air act and hamper development of new energy sources.

Zollar said the recent PAB ruling, lowering limits in cattle and spending $14 to $55 million to reimburse farmers who must slaughter more cattle, was the result of political and media hysteria. Zollar said four years ago it was a problem and the governor should have acted then.

Scientists at recent hearings said there's only about an ounce of PABA fire retardant chemical left in all state herds, according to Zollar. He said the new tolerance standard of 20 parts per billion can't even be tested.

In another area, Zollar said a couple years ago the governor ordered a freeze on state government hiring, but since then the state has added 4,900 employees and the payroll now stands at $8,000. "You could cut about 10 per cent of them and not even know they're gone," Zollar cracked.

He added that under civil service, you can't fire them easily after tenure is reached, but there are still many good people employed in government.

Some of the governor's fiscal advisers are not among the good ones, according to Zollar who termed them "roughheads with Ph.D. degrees and lots of experience in theory, but no practical experience in life."

Zollar said one of them recently suggested that $400,000 for the New Buffalo state police post be removed in favor of a central post at Benton Harbor with phone connection to the New Buffalo area.

Zollar reminded that New

Buffalo is the gateway to Michigan and that bugs in cigarette and whisky smugglers and dope runners as well as tourists.

Zollar, who still serves on the Appropriations committee, repeated an earlier pledge that he will do all he can to reopen the New Buffalo post.

Looking back over his years in the Senate, Zollar conceded that it's a worthwhile post and accomplishments have been made in Southwestern Michigan. He listed two community colleges, parks and good highways.

Bankruptcy Judge Gives Baptist Homes Extension

DETROIT — A federal bankruptcy judge has given Michigan Baptist Homes, Inc., an extension to Sept. 28 to come up with a financial reorganization plan for its four retirement homes including Whitcomb Tower St. Joseph.

The plan was to have been presented yesterday, but Judge George Brody granted the extension at request of Atty. Stuart Hertzberg, representing Michigan Baptist Homes.

Brody said that he is primarily concerned with the "humanitarian aspects" of keeping Michigan Baptist Homes operating for the welfare of 500 elderly residents.

Many of the residents are involved in the bankruptcy case as creditors because they had purchased "lifetime leases" which testimony in June showed ranged from $10,000 to $80,000. They also pay monthly service charges or rent.

Some residents bought debtors from Michigan Baptist Homes and were depending on interest from the debtors to pay the monthly service charges.

Receiver James McTavish told the court yesterday that between 25 and 30 residents can't pay their rent regularly because Michigan Baptist Homes isn't paying the interest.

A creditors' committee of eight was appointed yesterday. The committee includes three residents of Whitcomb Tower — Kenneth Hance, Leonard J. Judd, and Arthur L. Luedke.

The committee will pass on various proposals to keep Michigan Baptist Homes operating. If agreements are not reached, the judge will decide.

Testimony yesterday showed Whitcomb Tower currently has 64 per cent occupancy and had 63 per cent when the bankruptcy petition was filed in March.

Other retirement centers operated by Michigan Baptist Homes are the former Whittier hotel, Detroit; Olds Manor, Grand Rapids; and Hillside Terrace, Ann Arbor.

Brody extended the date for filing claims for debts to Sept. 15 and ordered the receiver to "collect all claims justly due" as rapidly as possible.

BH Banker Ending A 40-Year Career

Zigmund E. Mileski, vice president and cashier of Inter-City bank, will end a 40-year banking career when he retires July 29.

Mileski, of Sodus, got started in banking on April 7, 1937, when he went to work for the Benton Harbor State bank.

In 1961, when the Benton Harbor State bank and Union State bank of Buchanan were merged into Inter-City bank, Mileski was elected auditor and controller. Inter-City is headquartered in Benton Harbor.

Since that time, he has served in various capacities including controller, vice president and controller, and his present position of vice president and cashier.

Announcement of his retirement was made by James F. Murphy, president.

Mileski and his wife Ann live at 3674 Osborn road, Sodus.

He has been active in a variety of community organizations including the board of governors for the Benton township YMCA, the Benton Harbor Kiwanis club, the Sodus township board of review and the Benton Harbor Elks club.

Charge Filed In Medic's Death

SOUTHFIELD, Mich. (AP) — A 28-year-old man has been charged with murder in the slaying of a prison physician, Dr. Cynthia Miller. Gordon Wingard stood mute at his district court arraignment here Wednesday on two murder charges in the slaying of the Ann Arbor doctor. Wingard's alleged companion, Gail Marie Oliver, 27, is still being questioned by Southfield police, the FBI and the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office and will be arraigned at a later date, police said. The pair was arrested in Sacramento, Calif. earlier this week by the FBI and Sacramento police. Dr. Miller was found dead of gunshot wounds in her car along the I-96 freeway last July 17.

ESCAPES SERIOUS INJURY: Truck driver Earl Stutzman, 21, of Etna Green, Ind., drapes sheet around himself as he walks to Medic 1 ambulance after two-truck collision on eastbound I-94, St. Joseph township, at 5:15 a.m. today. Stutzman was treated at Memorial hospital and released after his tanker rig struck second semi-truck in rear, rolled into ditch and spilled cargo of gooey corn syrup, state police from Benton Harbor post said. Troopers said they pulled Stutzman from crushed cab. Driver and passenger in second rig were not injured. Benton Mother, Daughter Wind Up On Same Jury

By SCOTT WILLIAMSON
Staff Writer

Like mother, like daughter was the verdict yesterday in Berrien Circuit court.

Mrs. Mary Violet Crow, 65, and her daughter, Rose Marie Tanner, 32, were both jurors in a trial for a man charged with murder robbery. They reached the same verdict as the other 10 jurors: guilty as charged.

Berrien Circuit Judge Chester J. Byrns, who presided over the trial in which the two women were jurors, said it was the first time in his memory in 10 years as a judge that a parent and son or daughter sat on the same jury.

The jury deliberated about an hour before returning the guilty verdict against Tyrone Price.

33, of 1011 Eastland avenue, Benton township, who was sentenced to 10 to 15 years in prison.

Price was charged with robbing Gordon Brand of cash March 27 after a car collided with Brand's auto on Fair avenue in Benton township. The defense admitted Price's car was involved in the collision but denied Price was at the scene.

Mrs. Crow and Mrs. Tanner said they treated the other "just like any other juror" once inside the deliberation room. "She's old enough that she can reason for herself," Mrs. Crow said of her daughter. "We had no disagreement."

The mother and daughter are two of the 120 jurors who serve circuit court until the end of September. Both said they were surprised to learn the other had been selected for jury duty. "We figured we would never serve on the same jury," Mrs. Tanner added.

At the trial, Mrs. Crow was one of the original jurors to be selected, but her daughter was not. Then a man was excused from the jury by attorneys trying the case, and Mrs. Tanner was selected. Neither defense Atty. Paul Janelia nor Asst. Prosecutor Paul Maloney objected.

Mrs. Crow and Mrs. Tanner said they had not had jury duty before the present term. "But we both enjoy it, it's been quite an experience," said Mrs. Crow.

Mrs. Crow and her daughter live in Benton township.

Rock-Triggered Bullet Hits Boy

A nine-year-old Benton township boy was wounded at about 5:30 p.m. Wednesday by explosion of a bullet that had been struck by a rock thrown by a second boy, Benton township Patrolman Scott Long said.

Stephen Blevis, of 2432 Lawrence drive, was reported treated and released from Mercy hospital where he was taken by his mother, Darlene Blevis, after he was injured. A Mercy spokesman said a foreign object was removed from the boy's forehead but it was not known if the object was a bullet fragment.

Long reported Stephen told him he was playing with two boys on the 2900 block of Crawford drive when one of his playmates placed a bullet on a sidewalk. The officer said the three boys began striking the bullet with rocks in an attempt to make it explode.

Stephen Blevis was apparently injured when one of his companions stepped back and threw a rock at the bullet, exploding it, Long said. Stephen could not positively identify where the incident occurred and didn't know the names of his companions, according to Long.

Berrien Farm Bureau Chief Calls Disaster Loans 'Farce'

By JOE HERMAN
Staff Writer

The president of the Berrien county Farm Bureau says low-interest agricultural loans offered by the federal government due to bad weather are a "political farce."

At Prillwitz, Farm Bureau president, said that the announcement of low-interest loans gives the public a false impression of how much government assistance farmers receive for crop losses due to severe weather. Michigan Senator Don Reigle announced Wednesday that such loans will be available for farmers in Berrien and Cass counties.

"The idea that every time bad weather hits an area, farmers are bailed out by low-interest loans isn't true," Prillwitz stated. "The loans are only available to farmers who cannot qualify for credit at banks or lending institutions. The loans were available last year, and only 20 Berrien county farmers were eligible."

Prillwitz said that left about 98 per cent of the area's farmers getting loans at regular bank rates and receiving no special benefits for crop losses.

Bob Howland, director of the Berrien county Farmers Home Administration (FHA) office, said that in years when no credit test was required to qualify for the loans, over 1,000 applications were filed by area farmers reporting crop losses due to severe weather.

This year's crop losses will be determined by comparing the 1977 actual harvest to the five year average for each farm, Howland said. Loans are made at five per cent interest to cover the amount of loss determined for an individual farm. Additional loans are available at a higher rate of interest for the restoration of farm production for next year's crop.

STAFF APPOINTMENTS: Three staff appointments announced at the YWCA in St. Joseph, include, from left, Dawn Thomsen, to the newly created position of program services director; Cristina Salvatierra Brand, to the new position of financial and public relations director, and Ida Pinderski, new nursery school director. Program Services

Benton Harbor-St. Joseph YWCA will begin its 20th year of service to the community with a new director, Ida Pinderski of Stevensville.

Mrs. Pinderski will be responsible for all YWCA nursery school classes and play sessions and will teach as well as administer the program.

A child development major from Iowa State university, Mrs. Pinderski has been a resident of the area for 17 years. She has worked in many child oriented positions such as kindergarten teaching, on the John Hopkins hospital play program staff, and in the Twin Cities day care center. She and her husband, Louis, have four children.

Mrs. Pinderski is active in St. Paul's Episcopal church, St. Joseph, Monday Musical club, and the Women's Service League, as well as school activities.

"I feel strongly that at early ages children learn best through play situations rather than through highly structured programs," Mrs. Pinderski said. "Each child is an individual, requiring individual attention, supplementing the learning at home."

She says some specific areas of learning that will be stressed during the 1977-78 year will be the use of the five senses, counting and measuring, language skills, sorting and classifying, creativity, problem solving and self esteem.

Mrs. Pinderski replaces Mrs. Russell (Shirley) Davis who retired in June after 32 years at the YWCA, 19 years as pre-kindergarten director.

The YWCA nursery school offers a three-day program for four and five year olds, either from 9 to 11:30 a.m. or 1 to 3:30 p.m. Mondays, Wednesday, and Fridays and a two-day a week program for three year olds, 9-11:30 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Each class has regularly scheduled time in the gym and pool as well as in the nursery rooms.

Play sessions take place Tuesdays and Thursdays, 9-11:30 a.m. and 1-3:30 p.m. These sessions provide an opportunity for children of members to enjoy play time with other children on a drop-in basis and for mothers to have a day out for recreation or to participate in a YWCA class. A small fee is charged each mother.

Registrations are being accepted now for the nursery school's fall term.

Both nursery school and play sessions will begin the second week in September. Further information may be secured by calling the YWCA.

Benton Harbor-St. Joseph YWCA announces the promotion of Dawn Thomsen to the new position of program services director.

The promotion of Mrs. Thomsen is the first step in a major staff reorganization and the basic objective of the new position is administration of total association program services.

These areas include community representation, coordination of program planning and development, volunteer coordination, professional staff development and program service personnel administration. All program staff will report to the program director rather than the executive director.

Mrs. Thomsen has been with the YWCA as youth services director since February of 1970.

She has just returned from Minneapolis, Minn., where she attended the National Youthworker Education Project, nationwide training program for staffs of organizations serving adolescent girls, including girls with problems.

The program has been established by the Center for Youth Development and Research at the University of Minnesota. Dr. Gisela Konopka, director of the center, planned a program to bring together workers in youth-serving organizations and personnel involved in corrections so that people in both types of programs, by working together, can improve their understanding of girls from widely varying backgrounds, and achieve real improvements in services for all young women.

Mrs. Thomsen was selected by Skip Duckstader, teen consultant for national YWCA staff as one of 20 people to participate in the 10-day program.

Eight youth serving organizations were involved, YWCA, Big Sisters, Camp Fire Girls, Girls Clubs, Girl Scouts, 4-H, National Federation of Settlements and Neighborhood Centers and the Red Cross. Participants from correctional agencies were selected in cooperation with the state or national organizations. Implementation of the program was made possible by a grant from Lilly Endowment, Inc., of Indianapolis, Ind.

According to Mrs. Thomsen, the program was an "immersion learning experience to give an understanding of the wide range of adolescent behavior and an understanding and tolerance of serious adolescent problems."

"In addition, certain specific areas of skill were emphasized, including, the skill of communication with adolescents based on respect; skill in the conceptualization and presentation of new programs; skill in the integration of troubled youth with other young people; skill in working with girls of various cultural, social and racial backgrounds and skill in transmitting knowledge to staff and volunteers."

The program represents the first step in the application of a nationwide survey and study done by Dr. Konopka of the needs, concerns and aspirations of adolescent girls. Dr. Konopka and her staff interviewed a sample of approximately 920 girls, ages 12 to 18, from a wide variety of backgrounds.

According to Mrs. Thomsen, the interviews covered areas of common experiences and concerns, including feelings about school, career expectations, attitudes towards marriage, children and their own families, attitudes towards adults in general, views on sex, and experiences in and opinions about girl-serving organizations.

Mrs. Thomsen says, "This 'immersion learning experience' will help me achieve a better understanding of the problems, behavior and needs of adolescent girls so that I may be instrumental in offering meaningful and helpful programs and activities for young women in our area."

The YWCA is a participating member of Blossomland United Way.

Benton Harbor-St. Joseph YWCA has named Cristina Salvatierra Brand to the newly created position of financial and public relations director.

Mrs. Brand's primary areas of responsibility will include developing short and long term plans for financial and public relations, coordinating new record keeping procedures, and the administration of a budget for both departments.

"The implementation of many programs with the public relations department will be aimed at greater community involvement and support, according to Mrs. Brand who plans to increase the number of meetings with community leaders, their organizations and businesses, as well as to develop and coordinate a YWCA speakers' bureau."

"I feel very challenged and excited by the reorganization taking place at the YWCA and the ensuing responsibility I have to get to know and understand my new community," Mrs. Brand said. "I truly look forward to meeting and building a new rapport level with so many people and sharing the new awareness I have of the YWCA programs and goals available to so many women here."

Mrs. Brand is a graduate of the University of Arizona and was employed by Xerox Corporation in Phoenix, Ariz., as a sales representative.

She is married to Kimm C. Brand, sales administrator at Clark International & Marketing S.A., Benton Harbor. She was born Mrs. Brand was born in Mexico City and has lived and travelled in many countries.

Shoreham Art Fair Date Is Announced

Mrs. F.V. (Junia) Cupp, chairman for the sixth annual Shoreham Village art fair reported today the spaces available are rapidly being reserved as artists respond to the committee's invitation to participate.

Three Shoreham artists sponsoring the fair are Mrs. Cupp, chairman; Mrs. Henry (Marguerite) Batson, publicity; and David Nelson, grounds. Other committee members are Mrs. Frank (Beverly) Linn, registrar, Karl Goy, Mrs. Adele Schultz, and Miss Gloria Schultz.

The fair will be held Sunday, Sept. 4, from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Rain date is Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 5.

The event will be held on the private grounds of several village residents residing from 3170 to 3180 South Lakeshore drive, in the center of the village, south of St. Joseph.

The fair is a juried invitational. Several new features will be added to this year's event, according to the Mrs. Cupp who says it is the committee's objective to obtain new talent in the community and give them the opportunity to show their work, some for the first time.

"Several well known artists were given this opportunity several years ago and are now well on their way to becoming recognized workmen in their special fields of endeavor," Mrs. Cupp said.

Many of the exhibitors will be returning, some for the sixth year, according to Mrs. Cupp.

Among media featured this year will be watercolors, oils, acrylics, scratchwork, toleware, blown glass, woodcarving, hand-made clocks, old fashioned toys, jewelry, silverwork, copperwork, nature collage, and many other forms. Four portrait artists will be working throughout the day.

A refreshment booth will be catered by Miller Catering Service, Stevensville, and Win Schuler's, Stevensville, will provide a complimentary cheese bar.

Issue Commemorative Plates Depict Hartford History

HARTFORD — Historical commemorative plates of the Hartford area have been made in celebration of the city's centennial year and the nation's bicentennial.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Conklin of Conklin's Home Furnishings, Hartford, have designed the plates, based on old drawings and photos of the area.

The plates are made in armature metal, similar to pewter, and feature an inscription of the landmark and date of the scene.

The 1977 plates in honor of Hartford's centennial year will feature the old Hartford high school that was located on South East street and torn down in the late 1950's. The plate will depict the side of the building with the two-story, tubular slide fire escape. It will be issued in September.

The Bicentennial plate for 1976 shows the old Pere Marquette railroad depot on Railroad street, built in 1885. It was originally a two-story structure with sleeping rooms for travelers on the second floor but fire destroyed the building in 1910 and it was rebuilt as a single story structure. The old depot was torn down last summer when the building was sold by the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad system.

St. Dominic's Catholic church on the south end of Rush Lake, near Hartford, as it was in 1864, was the first plate issued in the series. The plate was cast in 1975 and shows the old wood frame church built for the Potawatomi Indian tribe with $1,000 sent to Father Louis Baroux, founder of the church, from his friends in France. The money was donated to replace the floorless, log cabin church used by the Indians until 1863. The church is no longer standing but the cemetery with many Indian burial plots is still located on the site in Hartford township.

Mrs. Conklin says ideas for the plates have come from persons in the community interested in local history and they follow an special sequence or plan.

She says they hope to feature other historic landmarks or buildings in other areas of Van Buren county in the future.

Eating Habits Are Important

Good eating habits established in youth usually mean good nutrition in later years. However, many people falsely believe they need no longer be concerned about good nutrition once they are mature or middle-aged.

Nothing could be further from the truth. The body is not a static organism but has a constant need for many nutrients for important life functions as well as to maintain strong bones and repair all body tissues.

Oatmeal For Good Skin?

An aged, slightly scarred face. After eight months of natural beauty scrubs, her complexion changed from oily and aged to normal, with little trace of the scarring.

Sound impossible? Not at all! An article in the Aug. 23 Family Circle by Nona Aguilar — which describes a close friend's positive experience with natural beauty preparations — takes a back-to-nature view towards skin care, with quizzes for determining skin type and over a dozen recipes for corresponding beauty preparations.

To understand why a "natural" approach can be effective, however, Aguilar discusses the skin itself.

All skin, dry, oily or mixed, sheds a surface layer of dead cells. When these discarded cells get left behind after a poor cleansing, she says, complexion troubles begin. For oily skin, this means pores plug up with blemish-causing waste; dry skin experiences flaking.

Aguilar describes an oatmeal powder scrub she swears will make skin "soft and silken-smooth." Her recipe is simple. Use a blender to grind half a cup of uncooked oatmeal into a fine powder. Wet the face thoroughly with hot water, then gently rub the oatmeal over the entire face. Rinse well with hot water. Repeat. Finish off with 15 splashes of hot water.

Is hot water necessary? Definitely yes, says Aguilar. Hot water acts as a stimulant — it not only increases circulation, but opens up pores so that both oily and dry skins benefit. Dirt, oil and wax float out of oily skin pores, while the natural, sub-surface secretions of the skin ease out to protect dry skin with a moisture-retaining covering. Pores will tighten up, adds the author, shortly after washing.

Following the oatmeal scrub and hot water splashes, Aguilar suggests a final touch — a vinegar rinse. This, she says, will restore the natural acidity of the skin, which is continually destroyed by the acid-neutralizing effects of soap. (This is why the oatmeal powder scrub is so effective.) Without the acid mantle, bacteria and other complexion-problem agents prosper.

To make the rinse, mix one-eighth cup vinegar and one and one-half cups water, enough to store in a tightly-lidded jar or bottle. Spread about one tablespoon of the solution over the face after cleansing. Unless you have dry skin, let it air-dry. Otherwise, pat dry with a tissue, and dilute the rinse with more water if the first application proves too drying.

TWELFTH IN SERIES Fresh Approach

The Versatile Cabbage

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Fresh cabbage is a staple vegetable, versatile, well-liked, nourishing.

Cabbage is really a group of vegetables which includes:

GREEN "HEAD" CABBAGE
RED "HEAD" CABBAGE:
actually a purple-red.

SAVOY CABBAGE: A head cabbage not much bigger than iceberg lettuce, yellowish, crimped leaves.

CHINESE CABBAGE: Sometimes called Celery Cabbage, an elongated, oval-shaped head with some of the characteristics of both cabbage and romaine lettuce. Head should be firm, fresh, well-blanching. Used principally in salads.

SHOPPING TIPS: Look for a firm or hard head that is heavy for its size when selecting cabbage. It should have a fresh, bright color, be it red or green. Outer leaves should be free of serious blemishes. A few loose-fitting outer leaves is normal but the rest of the head should be tight.

TO STORE: Wrap in plastic

QUICK DISH

Quick vegetable dish: canned stewed tomatoes heated with, canned okra. Good served in sauce dishes.

'Your Problems' By Ann Landers

Bisexual Trip Is 'Kinky'

Dear Ann Landers: Usually you are fair but a recent response to a 19-year-old male who was concerned about the widespread practice of bisexuality on his campus offended me, and I'm sure it offended thousands of others.

I agree with you that one should not go in for anything that violates his sense of decency. But I feel you were being very narrow and unsympathetic when you labeled all gays and bisexuals "weird" and "suggested they were either bombed, stoned, kinky, or a little cuckoo."

I am well aware of your feelings about alternate lifestyles, but of all people, Ann, you should be willing to accept people for what they are totally and not just sexually. You owe an awful lot of people an apology after that blanket insult. — Open-Minded in Salt Lake City

Dear Open: Too bad you don't read as well as you write. The 19-year-old male who wrote to me stated very clearly that he was appalled at the number of straight students — both male and female — who were going in for bisexuality strictly for kicks.

You quoted me correctly but in the wrong context. I view homosexuals as individuals who have a severe personality disorder. My adjectives "weird, bombed, stoned, kinky or a little cuckoo" described heterosexual students who would go in for bisexual shenanigans just for the heck of it. These people are not gay, they are college students with normal and natural sexual preferences who are simply looking for a new kind of trip.

I thought a long time before I wrote that response and I wouldn't take back a word of it.

Hire Handicapped

Dear Ann Landers: Today I hired a physically-handicapped young woman. She will be a typist in our legal department.

If you could have heard the excitement in her voice after being told she had the job! It made my heart jump with joy!

Please, Ann, appeal to the employers in your reading audience to give the handicapped a chance. They are so grateful for the opportunity that they will probably do a superior job. — Feeling Good Today

Dear Feeling Good: What do you mean "probably"? It is a matter of record that the handicapped have better attendance records, better performance records, and are often the best-liked people in the office, store, shop or factory.

Employers who hire the handicapped are doing themselves a favor.

Blow Discreetly

Dear Ann Landers: Please tell me what is the correct way to blow one's nose while dining with friends in a public place?

When I used a paper napkin during dinner recently, my wife gave me a very dirty look. She said I should have left the table. Is she right or wrong? — N. Carolina

Dear N.C.: It is permissible to wipe one's nose at the table, but use a handkerchief, please, not a paper napkin. Blowing (a loud honk) attracts attention and it's rude. It is always best to leave the table if an unobtrusive wipe will not suffice.

CONFIDENTIAL to A Cleo

ANN LANDERS

Will Be Appreciated: A giant he isn't. You can usually measure a man by the size of things that irritate him. Cool it, honey.

Do you feel awkward, self-conscious — lonely? Welcome to the club. There's help for you in Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity." Send 50 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to Ann Landers, P.O. Box 11995, Chicago, Ill. 60611.

Flower Show Sunday

BERRIEN SPRINGS — A flower show, "Florescence," in Harmony with the Arts, sponsored by the Garden Forum, will be held Sunday, July 31, at Berrien Springs middle school.

The show, which is open to the public without charge, will run from 3 to 8 p.m.

Sections in the show will include music, painting, literature, pottery and sculpture.

Persons interested in entering any arrangements may call Mrs. Oliver Wilson or Mrs. Donald Snyder, both of Berrien Springs.

Health Leadership Workshop

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Andrews university's annual Health Leadership Workshop will be held Sept. 9-15, according to Charlotte Hamlin, workshop coordinator.

The session will include a risk evaluation clinic for the 3 C's, coronary, cancer and cardiovascular accident (stroke).

Senior Citizens

Schedule of events during August for the Central County Senior Citizens center are as follows:

Tuesday, Aug. 9, 9:30 a.m., board meeting.

Wednesday, Aug. 10, walking tour of Ujohm Pharmaceutical laboratories.

Kalamazoo. Members will lunch on their own. The group will leave the center at 10 a.m. and return at 5 p.m. There is no charge but reservations are required.

Senior citizen season passes at $1 and one-day passes at $1, for the Berrien County Youth fair, Aug. 15-20, are available at the center. Reserved grandstand seat tickets at $2 are also available.

The group's fair booth will be featured Tuesday, Aug. 16 and Saturday, Aug. 20, at the Berrien Springs fairgrounds. Reservations are due before Friday, Aug. 12, for the play and luncheon at the Tin Tree dinner theatre, New Buffalo. Thursday, Aug. 25, cost is $10.50. The group will leave the center at noon and return at 5:30 p.m.

August birthdays will be celebrated at a luncheon party, Friday, Aug. 26, at 1 p.m.

Reservations are due before Aug. 30, for lunch and play at the Tin Tree, Sept. 8. Cost is $10.50.

Sunday, Aug. 31, tour of the Shipshawanna, Ind. antique auction. No charge but reservations are required. Group will leave center at 8:15 a.m. and return at 3:30 p.m.

Blood pressure clinics will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Sodus township library, Tuesday, Aug. 2; Eau Claire village hall, Tuesday, Aug. 16, and at the Berrien Springs center, Aug. 23.

ASTRO-GRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

Your Birthday

Friday, July 29, 1977

Go out of your way this coming year to be helpful to persons or causes you truly believe in. Happy results are likely if you follow this advice.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Put forth your best effort today to work on enterprises you're very enthusiastic about. If you can channel your energies in this direction, you can really move things. Find out to whom you're romantically suited by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 488, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10010. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You treat those you meet today in a warm, friendly manner. Numbered among this group is someone who'll be impressed and later do you some good.

LJIRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 21) It's important today to envision the outcome of events in a positive, optimistic manner. Try it — the results may surprise you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your instincts for selling yourself or a product are honed to a fine edge today. You're particularly fortunate if you can deal with the top dog.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec.

21) Your formula for striking good bargains today is to lay all your cards on the table. The more honest you are, the better the results you can expect.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Lady Luck will catch up with you today, but you have to exert yourself and be assertive. This is especially true careerwise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Play the humble role if you want to be a success today. You'll be surprised at how others are attracted to you when you keep a low profile.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Something for which you have had high hopes looks like it will work out. Keep the faith and don't give up now.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Aim high today. You're capable of achieving major goals. It would be a shame to waste your time and talent on trifles.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Personal gain is a strong possibility for you today. You can grasp the whole picture. You know where the pieces fit, even if others don't.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Put a fair price tag on your contribution to a venture today. You certainly deserve half the proceeds, or perhaps even the lion's share.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Persons you deal with on a one-to-one basis today will do more for you than you do for them. It would be nice if you'd reciprocate later.

We have to congratulate West on a most successful swindle. We leave it to you readers to decide whether South should have fallen into the trap.

South won the spade lead with dummy's ace, led it club and finessed his jack. West dropped the nine!

South pondered a bit, entered dummy with the king of diamonds, cashed the ace of diamonds to discard a spade and repeated the club finesse. This time West produced the queen and cashed his queen of diamonds. All of a sudden South

Ask the Jacobys

There was a time when the bid for the larger number of points prevailed so that four hearts could over-call five diamonds and so on. But about 55 years back the laws were changed so that the bid for the greater number of tricks prevailed. Nevertheless, we have a question on this subject from Florida.

Woman Braves Beating To Aid Police

DETROIT (AP) — A woman beaten with brass knuckles and forced to leave Michigan as she helped police convict a man who burned down his own restaurant has been cited for heroism here.

Officials say Glenna Faye Shaffer is the exception to the rule of "not getting involved."

For her actions, Mrs. Shaffer has been awarded $1,000 and nominated for a civilian commendation from the Detroit Fire Department.

Her testimony led to the April conviction of Robert Eurlig for arson in the burning of the B and C Restaurant, a northwest Detroit taco shop he owned with another man, Mrs. Shaffer was a barmaid there.

The restaurant blew up July 22, 1976. Firemen found a cigarette lighter and an empty gasoline can near the body of the restaurant's co-owner, Cesar Biggers. Biggers was charged with setting the fire, but died in October from his injuries. Police closed the case and an insurance company prepared to pay Eurlig for the building.

But a few weeks later, Mrs. Shaffer told police Eurlig had confided to her after Biggers' funeral that he had helped set the fire. She talked, despite being told to "keep my mouth shut or else."

Mrs. Shaffer said she was angry because she believed Eurlig had deliberately left Biggers buried under the rubble after the fire.

The Wayne County Organized Crime Task Force launched a probe, but before a meeting could be set up with Mrs. Shaffer, a man came to the trailer home where she was hiding, knuckled her to the ground and beat her on the head with brass knuckles.

The man said her mouth would be closed "permanently" if she continued to talk to police, she later said. To protect her own life and that of her infant daughter, Mrs. Shaffer moved to another state, but returned three times to Michigan to testify against Eurlig.

He now is serving two-to-10 years in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

"Heck, most people won't even come to court just because they'll miss a day of work, and look what she went through," said Sgt. Marvin Monroe of the Wayne County Organized Crime Task Force.

"She was a nervous wreck, but she continued to help," said Sgt. Monroe. "She wasn't looking for anything, she never asked for anything. She didn't even know about the reward fund."

FAMILY GONE: Frederick Beaudoin, holding flower, walks Wednesday to gravesite for his family who were slain in their Prospect, Conn. home last Friday. Beaudoin's wife, Cheryl, and his seven children were found dead at the house by firemen responding to an alarm there. (AP Wirephoto)

Lawyers From Area Are Elected

Two area attorneys have been elected to the 203-member Representative Assembly of the Michigan State Bar.

The two are David M. Peterson, St. Joseph, and Donald R. Halstead, Paw Paw.

Peterson was elected to a two-year term in the assembly, according to the Bar, while Halstead was elected to a three-year term.

The assembly is the policy-making body of the Bar and was created in 1972. Representatives are elected from each of the state's 50 judicial circuits.

Halstead's term is in the 36th judicial circuit and Peterson's in the second.

Agents Admit Opening Mail

WASHINGTON (AP) — Customs agents have illegally opened or read mail and in some cases stolen letters, government officials acknowledged today.

The incidents were described in statements submitted by the Customs Service and Postal Service to a House panel that is looking into mail opening operations by Customs.

New Controversy Erupts Over Welfare Reforms

By MICHAEL J. SNIFFEN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — HEW Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. is opposing a cut in welfare benefits for tenants of subsidized housing because of the political battle it would entail, a government paper shows.
After a two-week struggle with the housing industry, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, mayors, governors, civil rights and labor groups, Califano wrote President Carter, "My best political judgment is that the misery is not worth the fight."
But two new controversies broke out over Califano's ill-fated welfare reform proposal, parts of which The Associated Press has seen.
Carter is meeting privately today with several Cabinet members to discuss the paper. He plans to unveil his welfare reform by Aug. 4.

At a joint news conference Wednesday night with Califano, five big city mayors accepted the HEW secretary's turnaround on the tenants' issue. But they said they are dissatisfied with his unspecific promises that the federal government will increase the 50 per cent share of welfare costs it pays. States, counties and some cities pay the rest.

A second dispute brewed over Califano's proposal to shift $550 million from housing subsidies to welfare payments. Government sources said the Department of Health, Education and Welfare argues that its welfare program will increase the rents paid for subsidized housing by that amount, allowing a similar reduction in government subsidies for these units.

Sources said the welfare proposal on Carter's desk claims HUD agreed with the $550 million figure, but HUD officials vehemently denied that and said no detailed calculation had been made.

But the dispute over Califano's original plan for cutting welfare benefits for subsidized housing tenants appeared at an end.

State, Local Taxes Swelling

NEW YORK (NEA) — State and local personal income and sales taxes have been swelling during the last decade.
Their combined share of the country's total tax take rose from 29 per cent in 1966 to 33 per cent today. The Conference Board reports.

In one section of the welfare outline, Califano listed such cuts as an option but ended his discussion of them by writing, "I do not recommend this course."
Califano wrote Carter that "there are strong arguments of equity for providing lower cash assistance benefits to subsidized housing occupants than to those who do not receive housing subsidies."

He wrote that by lowering such welfare payments 15 per cent an estimated $350 million to $400 million could be saved in cash welfare outlays. This would help the HEW secretary meet Carter's demand for a new system that does not increase federal spending.

Using rough figures Califano has cited publicly, a family of four with no members required to work might be entitled to $3,800 a year in federal welfare payments plus additional money in states which choose to pay more.

But if the family lived in subsidized housing, its federal payment might be reduced to $3,500 or less. In earlier drafts of the proposal, the reduction might have been to $2,800 or less.

Kite Called Spark Of Calif. Fire

By ROGER GILLOTT
Associated Press Writer
SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — A young man flies a kite on a soft summer evening. A gust of wind wafts the kite into high-voltage power lines. It flutters flaming to the ground.
Result: 385 homes and other structures destroyed or damaged; $50 million in damage; 3,000 persons evacuated; 22 persons injured, 740 acres of brush destroyed.
"I shall always regret the part, however innocent, I have had in this tragic matter," the unidentified young man said late Wednesday as firefighters worked to contain one of the worst fires in this scenic community's history. "I am deeply shocked and saddened by the great loss and suffering which has resulted from the fire."

Santa Barbara, a wealthy community of mission-style homes whose red-tiled roofs lend a Mediterranean flavor to the parched Pacific coast some 100 miles north of Los Angeles, became a smoke-filled city Tuesday night as sheets of flame tore through the drought-dried brush of the Santa Ynez Mountains.

Fire storms leaped erratically from canyon to ridge, leaving a patchwork of destruction across the city's richest neighborhoods, where some home values start at $250,000.

Fire officials estimated that 250 expensive homes were destroyed.

Although small by California standards, the 740-acre blaze left an uncommon trail of tragedy. Many of those whose homes were destroyed were wealthy; others were not.

Seven evacuation centers were set up, but relief workers said few of the financially secure refugees stayed there. Most elected to stay at the 78 hotels and motels in Santa Barbara, a major tourist area.

Dist. Atty. Stanley Roden said the kite flyer, identified only as a man in his 20s, was in Sycamore Canyon when his kite was blown into a 16,000-volt power line. He said the string of the kite caused an electrical arc, which "either set the brush immediately below on fire or sent a shower of flammable material to the ground, which set the brush on fire." Authorities had first believed the blaze was the work of an arsonist.

"This is all I have left, my wife and my dogs," said Artillo Sereno, a 75-year-old carpenter, as he surveyed the ashes of the home he built 19 years ago.

"We were told to evacuate, we had three minutes' notice," said another man who lost his home. "I got out maybe a handful of clothing. My wife got out a few pictures, a scrapbook from her childhood."

State Eying More Uses For Kincheloe Air Base

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Kincheloe Air Force base, already being rented as a new state prison site, is being eyed for a number of other uses by state agencies, says Gov. William Milliken.

Possible uses for the Chippewa County airbase being closed by the Air Force range from a job-training facility for young adults to an area-wide solid waste disposal system.

In a letter to Chippewa County officials, Milliken said at least four state agencies are looking at the base with an eye toward reducing the impact its closing will have on the area.

The airbase south of South Ste. Marie in the Upper Peninsula is being closed by the Air Force over strong objections from local officials, who say the closing will cost nearly 700 civilian employees their jobs. The closure also is expected to have a ripple effect on area businesses, schools and real estate values.

In his letter Tuesday, Milliken said unemployment in Chippewa County could reach 32 per cent after the closing unless jobs are replaced.

The base already been earmarked for a medium security prison to open in October.

The prison alone will create nearly 300 jobs by Oct. 1. If the other proposals work out, nearly half the 700 civilian jobs lost to the shutdown could be salvaged, Milliken said.

Other uses being contemplated include:

—A federally program to train nearly 100 young adults in job skills.

—A solid waste disposal facility for the area.

Carter Domestic Policy Rapped By NAACP Chief

By JONATHAN WOLMAN
AP Urban Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — NAACP director Benjamin Hooks, ignoring President Carter's warning against criticism of his domestic programs, says Carter should remember that when he meets his maker, he'll be judged on whether "he fed the hungry."

In a speech that brought cries of "Amen," Hooks placed the nation's largest civil rights organization "four-square" behind Vernon Jordan of the National Urban League, who said earlier this week that Carter's policies are inadequate for black and poor people.

Following Hooks' speech Wednesday to the Urban League, Jordan said civil rights leaders are "together" and will continue pressuring Carter despite the President's statement that criticism of his record damages "the hopes and aspirations of poor people."

Just as labor and business leaders lobby Carter for their concerns, "We cannot expect black people and poor people to suffer silently the daily outrages of their lives, to uncomplacently accept joblessness and poverty," said Jordan.

Hooks put in his last day at the Federal Communications Commission on Wednesday and, as incoming head of the NAACP, joined a growing chorus of civil rights leaders petitioning Carter for new policies.

Explaining that as a Baptist preacher he believes Carter has been born again, Hooks told the Urban League: "I believe he has a conscience that can be reached. It's our job to reach it starting here and now."

"I will remind him that when he shall have finished the work that he has been given to do on this earth and he stands before the pearly gates ... he will not be judged on the fact that he was an atomic engineer, nor will Peter be concerned about the fact that he was a successful peanut farmer, or a governor of Georgia, or even a president.

"But they will ask him, Brother Jimmy: 'I was hungry, did you feed me?'

"I was naked, did you clothe me?"

"I was in jail, did you come and see about me?"

"I'm not concerned about whether you thought I was a beggar."

"But I'm concerned about whether you handed the help in the poor brother that used to be my little one."

"Wide, wide river. River of freedom, Lord. There's one more river to cross."

Carter told Jordan on Monday that criticism of his administration's domestic record is damaging his attempts to aid the poor. But black leaders insisted their only ability to influence Carter is to "go public with the truth," as Jordan has put it.

Following Jordan this week with their own criticisms of Carter policies were other moderate black leaders, including Mayor Kenneth Gibson of Newark, N.J., Carl Hohman of the Urban Coalition and Rep. Perrin Mitchell, D-Md., head of the Congressional Black Caucus.

"We have pierced the veil of indifference, we have opened the windows to the plight of the poor," Jordan said in his speech ending the Urban League's annual conference here.

Hooks said he has been asked about Jordan's statements, and he explained, "I stand foursquare and forthrightly behind him, and beside him, and if necessary I stand in front of him because we've got to get a message to the nation."

The message, said Hooks, is that for black people, "There's one more river to cross. The river of freedom."

GERBER STOCKHOLDERS MEET: Annual meeting of shareholders of Gerber Products Co., makers of baby products, was undisturbed by pickets of AFL-CIO that greeted them at door. Meeting was held in Fremont (Mich.) high school to accommodate large crowd. (AP Wirephoto)

Gerber's Takeover Fight Backed By Stockholders

By PIET BENNETT
Associated Press Writer
FREMONT, Mich. (AP) — Gerber Products Co. shareholders are standing firmly behind their company's opposition to a takeover bid aimed at the nation's biggest baby food manufacturer.

More than 800 stockholders crowded the Fremont High School gymnasium Wednesday for the annual meeting. Only two of them expressed opposition to Gerber's battle against the $325 million takeover bid launched April 18 by Anderson, Clayton & Co. of Houston.

The takeover attempt is blocked under court order pending hearings on Gerber's claim that the purchase would violate federal anti-trust laws. Hearings on that issue are scheduled before a federal judge in Grand Rapids starting Sept. 12. Gerber sales constitute between 60 and 70 per cent of the nation's baby food market.

There was a burst of applause Wednesday when John Suerth, Gerber's chairman and chief operating officer, said, "We've already decided what we're going to do," regarding the Anderson, Clayton bid. Suerth was replying to one of the two opposing voices, that of Guy Wyser-Pratte, senior vice president for the New York investment firm of Bache, Halsey, Stuart.

"I believe your court action is nothing more than a fishing expedition," Wyser-Pratte told Suerth. The comment was a reference to Gerber's court suits at both the state and federal levels in its battle to avoid the takeover.

"I really don't care about your opinion," Suerth replied in the afternoon's most fiery exchange.

Wyser-Pratte was cut off then after asking Suerth eight questions about his takeover opposition. But when there were no other questions later, Wyser-Pratte was allowed to resume questioning Suerth.

The only other opposition to the company management on the takeover question came from a man identifying himself only as Adlai Shannon, who asked why stockholders are not being allowed to consider Anderson, Clayton's $40 per share offer for Gerber.

In other action at the annual meeting, the shareholders heard that Gerber's sales were up during this year's first quarter by nearly 4 per cent, but net earnings fell more than 32 per cent.

On a per share basis, Gerber earned just 54 cents during the first quarter this year, compared to a record 80 cents per share during the opening quarter last year.

Suerth blamed the decline on "a difficult year in our foreign operations," but he predicted that those problems, which include price controls and currency devaluations, will be short-lived.

Big-Car Binge Puts GM Profits Over $1 Billion

By OWEN ULLMANN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. capitalized on a big-car buying binge in the second quarter to become the first U.S. industrial firm to ring up profits of more than $1 billion in a three-month period.

The world's largest automaker reported Wednesday that its after-tax profits in the second quarter rose 21 per cent from last year to a record $1.1 billion, or $3.82 a share.

That compared with earnings of $899 million, or $3.16 a share, in the same 1976 period, which had been the best in GM history.

Sales in the April-June quarter rose 19 per cent to a record $14.9 billion, up from $12.5 billion a year ago.

Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp., the nation's Nos. 2 and 3 automakers, respectively, report their results later this week.

Analysts predict Ford will earn more than $500 million in the period, up sharply from $442 million in the second quarter of 1976 — Ford's highest profits for a three-month period ever.

Chrysler, however, is expected to show a $25 million to $30 million decline in earnings from last year's second-quarter record of $125 million, partly due to two local strikes which hampered production.

Small-car maker American Motors Corp., which is in a severe auto slump, reported last week that it earned $1.6 million in the quarter, as strong gains by its non-automotive divisions offset heavy losses from car operations.

GM and Ford, the nation's leading big-car makers, are profiting handsomely from robust demand for large models. Analysts say consumers are rushing to buy the so-called "gas guzzlers" because they believe big cars will become extinct in a few years by pending federal fuel economy requirements.

Chrysler and AMC are more dependant on the small car market, which has not been as strong this year.

GM said worldwide factory sales of cars and trucks in the quarter were a record 2.6 million, up from the previous high of 2.4 million in 1976 and 1975. But average employment of 803,000 was down from the record 813,000 on GM's payroll during the second quarter of 1973.

Factory sales in the United States were a record 1.9 million, up from 1.7 million a year ago.

U.S. May Appeal Court's Order

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is considering whether to appeal a federal court decision declaring that the government acted illegally when it seized documents from the Washington headquarters of the Church of Scientology.

U.S. District Court Judge William B. Bryant ruled Wednesday that a search warrant authorizing the Washington raid by FBI agents was unconstitutional.

Wyser-Pratte was cut off then after asking Suerth eight questions about his takeover opposition. But when there were no other questions later, Wyser-Pratte was allowed to resume questioning Suerth.

The only other opposition to the company management on the takeover question came from a man identifying himself only as Adlai Shannon, who asked why stockholders are not being allowed to consider Anderson, Clayton's $40 per share

HE VANISHED TWO YEARS AGO

Hoffa Probe Still Lingers On

By PETE YOST
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — The flow of grand jury witnesses has slowed to a trickle and all but a handful of FBI agents probing the disappearance of ex-Teamsters boss James R. Hoffa have been taken off the case.

Hoffa vanished two years ago this week, the victim of what the government believes was a plot by organized crime and union leaders to keep him from gaining control of the 2.2-million member Teamsters union.

Investigators know the identity of Hoffa's killers, says U.S. Atty. Philip Van Dam. But no indictments have been issued and Hoffa's son, James P., says the government isn't trying hard enough.

FBI agents remain unshaken in their belief that Hoffa's drop from sight was related to his attempts to regain the union presidency, which he relinquished in 1971 while serving a prison term for jury tampering and mail fraud.

In the past few months, the FBI has contacted attorney Leonard Boudin. At the time Hoffa vanished, Boudin was attempting to have a federal court overturn parole restrictions which barred Hoffa from union activities until 1980. Boudin said he was asked "routine" questions about the case, which has been taken off the court calendar because of the disappearance.

Robert E. Kent, special agent in charge of the FBI's Detroit office, says he expects individuals "of interest to the Hoffa investigation" to be indicted on unrelated charges. Organized crime and union officials of interest in the Hoffa matter have been targets of gambling probes and have been indicted on weapons charges and violations of federal labor law.

But neither Kent nor Van Dam expects indictments in the Hoffa case in the next three months and Van Dam said he is "somewhat disappointed" the government cannot show what happened to Hoffa. Both, however, say they are confident the mystery will be solved.

Hoffa vanished July 30, 1975, after driving to what he believed was an appointment with reputed Detroit Mafia figure Anthony Giacalone. Giacalone, who says he had no appointment with Hoffa that day, has spent much of the past two years at his home in Florida.

Law enforcement officials say Giacalone, who is appealing a tax evasion conviction, is returning to Michigan to help restore order in the mob, which reportedly is in a state of disarray because of a lack of strong leadership.

Anthony Provenzano of Hallandale, Fla., another of the men Hoffa believed he was to meet the day he vanished, has spent the past two years consolidating his power in the Teamsters.

Provenzano, a one-time Hoffa friend who turned into a bitter enemy, virtually runs Teamster affairs on the East Coast, knowledgeable union sources say. The day Hoffa disappeared, Provenzano, a convicted extortionist, says he was playing cards at Teamsters Local 560 in Union City, N.J., where he is secretary-treasurer.

Charles "Chuckie" D'Brien, who says he is Hoffa's foster son, has spent the past two years as a Teamster organizer in Florida. O'Brien, like Giacalone and Provenzano, took the Fifth Amendment when hauled before a federal grand jury investigating Hoffa's disappearance.

On the day Hoffa vanished, O'Brien was driving a car belonging to Giacalone's son, Joey, near the restaurant where Hoffa was last seen. Trained police dogs later detected Hoffa's scent in car's trunk.

O'Brien, who says he knows nothing about the disappearance, was convicted last year of violating federal labor laws and sentenced to a year in jail. Now, the Internal Revenue Service has launched a civil case for back taxes against O'Brien, who says he is being "harrassed because of the Hoffa thing."

The FBI has spent more than $1 million looking for Hoffa, with the search ranging from a Teamsters hangout in California to the Florida Keys. A government informant said Hoffa's body might be found in a Jersey City, N.J. dump.

But most investigators are convinced the body of the ex-Teamsters boss was dumped near the scene of the slaying. And they believe he was killed at a private residence in the Detroit area.

The belief his body never left Michigan is based on the fact that hauling a body long distances would be, according to one investigator, "too damn complicated."

The government has two theories about Hoffa's death. One, the most widely accepted, is that his slaying was preplanned. The other theory is that the scheduled meeting the day he vanished started out as a verbal warping to Hoffa. A delegation of mob-union figures tried to tell Hoffa he should scrap his campaign to regain control of the union. Tempers flared and Hoffa was killed.

JIMMY HOFFA
Long, Long Search

Book Airs Feud 'Round Throne

By GRAHAM HEATHCOTE
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip, motivated by both personal dislike and concern for the royal family, was instrumental in blocking the marriage of his sister-in-law, Princess Margaret, and war hero Peter Townsend 22 years ago, according to a new biography of the princess.

Philip bore a grievance against Townsend because the Royal Air Force fighter pilot, as an adviser to King George VI, had "counseled the king to prolong the courtship and delay the marriage of Philip and Elizabeth, the future queen, the book says. Austrian author Willi Frischauer's "Margaret — Princess without a Cause" paints a vivid picture of the love affairs of the two princesses and of an electrifying clash of temperaments behind the scenes at Buckingham Palace.

Margaret's abortive romance with the divorced Townsend was headline news around the world in 1955, when she finally announced she would not marry him.

The princess' eventual marriage five years later to photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones broke down last year and the couple, who have two children, live separately. Townsend is now married and lives in Belgium.

Frischauer writes that after World War II Philip, a naval officer courting Elizabeth, and Townsend, a military member of the royal household, were "incompatible and jostling in a narrow space big enough for only one."

King George, who had no son, admired the handsome and dashing air force officer and soon promoted him to deputy master of the household. "I'd have liked a boy like Townsend," the author says the king once told Margaret.

According to palace insiders, Townsend, as the king's closest adviser, inspired a plan in 1946 to keep Elizabeth and Philip from a quick marriage so the king could "observe Philip over a time at close quarters before deciding whether he could become a member of the royal family," Frischauer writes.

Philip was furious when he found out about Townsend's intervention. The king followed Townsend's advice, the author says, but in November 1947, Philip and Elizabeth married, with the king's blessing.

Margaret then became the center of attention. Though linked by gossip to every available young man of birth and rank, the only man in her life was Townsend. Frischauer writes.

But the 12-year friendship and romance of Margaret and Townsend was doomed. The king's death in February 1952 "robbed the lovers of a supporter who loved them both as much as they loved each other," Frischauer says.

Medicaid Fraud Bill Now Law

GOV. MILLIKEN
It's Law Now

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The state's power to crack down on Medicaid fraud has been strengthened by legislation signed into law by Gov. William Milliken Wednesday.

The bill defines fraudulent activities and sets penalties for persons who accept kickbacks or bribes or in some way attempt to defraud the state. It applies to doctors, nurses, pharmacists and other medical professionals who perform Medicaid services for the poor, as well as their clients.

"A relatively small number of health care providers engage in illegal practices to inflate their incomes and purposely provide services they know are unnecessary," Milliken said. "This new law ... will help curb Medicaid abuses which have threatened the integrity of the entire Medicaid program."

The new law forbids kickbacks and bribes, false applications for Medicaid benefits, false statements to gain admittance to a hospital or other facility, and presenting false claims to the state. Violation of the law is a felony with maximum penalties of a 4-to-10-year prison sentence and fines up to $50,000 for each violation. Recipients of Medicaid benefits which are paid fraudulently would have to pay a civil penalty equal to the benefits plus three times the amount of damages suffered by the state. Those convicted four or more times for violating the new law could be sentenced to 10-year terms.

U.S. Action Seen To Save Dollar

LONDON (AP) — Monetary experts here expect the U.S. government to move soon to support the dollar in an effort to halt its slide against major world currencies.

British financial commentators who reported that prediction today also said the West German government is pressing for an urgent meeting with American, British and French leaders to discuss the dollar's decline.

In Bonn, West German Finance Minister Hans Apel said he was concerned about the dollar's decline in recent weeks and felt continued fluctuation could threaten global economic recovery.

"The rapidity of the devaluation is extremely alarming," he said in a television interview. Some British financial writers reported growing European suspicions that the United States is deliberately encouraging the dollar's devaluation to make U.S. exports more competitive in foreign markets in an effort to narrow America's increasing trade gap.

But Apel said he did not believe the United States was trying to gain an unfair trade advantage by allowing the dollar to weaken.

The dollar slumped against the British pound Wednesday in London, sterling gaining nearly two cents in hectic trading and closing at 1.7395 pounds to the dollar, its highest mark against the U.S. currency since last Sept. 18.

The dollar strengthened Wednesday against both the West German mark and the Swiss franc, key currencies, but foreign exchange dealers stressed that the rise did not accurately reflect the trade deficit and the U.S. economy's disappointing performance over the past few months.

Breast Cancer 'High' Among Nuns

By C.G. McDaniel

Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — A study of an order of nuns in Michigan has found that they have a much higher incidence of breast cancer than women in the general population.

This is reported in the July issue of the Journal of the American Osteopathic Association by Dr. Rosemary J. Havoy, a general practitioner at Schwaig, Mich., and herself a member of the

Dr. Havoy surveyed 1,178 members of the order to compare the incidence of common female cancers.

She not only found that the incidence of breast cancer was much higher, but that the religious sisters had cancer of the uterine cervix at about the same rate as the general population and cancer of the uterus was more prevalent. The nuns reported no cases of lung cancer and a lower rate of cancer of the colon and rectum.

Dr. Havoy offered no explanation for most of the differences.

The lack of lung cancer is related to their not smoking.

She said that "It would appear that the life style of this population protects against colorectal cancer." The physician noted that a diet high in refined carbohydrates has been related to a high incidence of this cancer.

TODAY In History

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, July 28, the 209th day of 1977. There are 156 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1914, Austria declared war on Serbia. It was the beginning of World War I.

On this date —

In 1821, Peru proclaimed independence from Spain.

In 1898, Miami, Fla., which had a population of less than 300, was incorporated.

In 1943, during World War II, U.S. forces won victories on the Italian island of Sicily.

In 1945, 13 people were killed when a U.S. Army bomber crashed into the Empire State Building in New York City.

In 1960, Vice President Richard M. Nixon went before a Republican National convention in Chicago and accepted the GOP nomination for president.

In 1973, three U.S. astronauts were sent into space from Cape Kennedy to link up with the orbiting Skylab space station and spent nearly two months in orbit.

Ten years ago, U.S. Army paratroopers were withdrawn from the streets of Detroit but were held in reserve within the city limits in case of new outbreaks of racial disturbances.

Five years ago, The Peking government reported that Chinese Defense Minister Lin Biao tried to kill Chairman Mao Tse-tung and died in a plane crash in September while trying to flee China.

One year ago, Britain severed relations with the government of President Idi Amin in Uganda.

Today's birthdays: Mrs. Aristotle Onassis is 48. Deep sea explorer Jacques Piccard is 55.

Thought for today: Beware of little expenses. A small leak will sink a great ship. — Benjamin Franklin, 1706-1790.

Many Nations Tightening Nuclear Plant Security

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — An effort is under way in many nations to tighten the security of nuclear facilities against dangers of attack, sabotage and hijacking.

The United States has taken the lead at a time when world trade and traffic is expanding rapidly in nuclear plants and in fuels 20,000 times more poisonous than a cobra's bite.

Antisabotage precautions have been upgraded at every military and nuclear installation in this country during the past year. More armed guards have been deployed. New safety devices and detection instruments have been fitted. Working personnel are screened more carefully. Every conceivable gap in protective systems is being plugged.

All this is being done partly as an overdue precaution and partly as an example for foreign users of nuclear power.

"Without offering gratuitous advice or intervening in national security systems, we are making much of our techniques, our instrumentation, our training available," Gen. Edward Giller said in an interview.

Giller is chief of the safeguards section in the Energy Research and Development Administration. He went on: "Here we are installing more and more automated systems for measuring, weighing, recording materials. These include tamper-proof devices, sensors which can detect even the tiniest particles of radioactive substances which people might try to smuggle out of a plant."

Training in nuclear security techniques has been greatly expanded by the United States recently for Americans and foreigners. Members of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Central Intelligence Agency are forming special squads to work on matters involving the whole range of nuclear security. Inspectors from the Vienna-based International Atomic Energy Agency and officials from the 30 countries which have bought U.S. equipment and fuel come here to learn the newest development in safeguard technology.

Through the 1970s, there have been between 55 and 65 acts of international terrorism a year — a rate of more than one a week. There already have been some incidents involving nuclear power or facilities.

On Oct. 27, 1970, a 14-year-old schoolboy in Orlando, Fla., sent a letter to city authorities demanding $1 million and threatening to blow up the city with an H-bomb. He enclosed a diagram of what experts said was a workable bomb. Local police were set to deliver the money when the youngster was found and arrested. It was a hoax; there was no bomb.

—Tinkskyle urban guerrillas temporarily occupied Argentina's Atucha reactor in 1973 while it was being built.

—A would-be saboteur, protesting the proposed establishment of a nuclear reactor in Massachusetts, wrecked a meteorological tower on the site in 1974.

—Two workers at a reactor in Bradwell, England, were reported in 1974 to have been discovered passing 20 files rods over the perimeter fence.

—Unidentified groups thought to be separatists exploded bombs in 1975 at French nuclear plants at Vessieux and at Mt. D'Arce.

In 1976, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission sent formal warnings to 58 nuclear plants that it had received word of threatened attacks by two terrorist groups. Precautions were redoubled. Nothing happened.

Through the 1960s and 1970s, various U.S. corporations, including Kerr-McGee and the Nuclear Materials and Equipment Corporation —

Nuance — reported losing track of either plutonium or highly enriched uranium over a period of years. Giller says nuclear material often is out of sight temporarily in reactor systems and the missing items cannot be assumed to have been stolen.

Mafia Clout In Trucking Eyed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice Department lawyers are investigating possible Mafia influence on federal trucking regulation amid publicity they say is alarming to potential witnesses.

Despite several news stories about the investigation, no solid evidence of crime has yet surfaced, and it still is not known exactly what allegations are being investigated. There also is no indication that any major public figures are involved.

Clinton River Gets Walleyes

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — About 24,000 tiny walleyes have been turned loose in the north branch of the Clinton River in hopes of re-establishing the breed's spawning runs on the American side of Lake St. Clair.

The 2½-inch fry — the first on the Michigan side of the lake in generations — were moved in a tank truck this week from a farm pond at Selfridge Air National Guard Base to the nearby north branch of the river.

Members of the Lake St. Clair Advisory Committee said they hope the little fish will arrive in Lake St. Clair in about two weeks.

The club hopes for the first spawning run in the spring of 1980.

The fry had been cultivated since May in one of two three-acre ponds at the base on the shore of Lake St. Clair. One-fourth of an inch long, they were barely visible when planted in the nurseries after being hatched at the Wolf Lake State Hatchery near Kalamazoo.

The fish in the second pond were left alone to see if they would survive the transfer to the river better when they were three to four inches long.

White House Adopts New Policy On Tour Tickets

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House is receiving so many complaints from members of Congress about the difficulty of getting constituents on "VIP tours" of the White House that a new method of distributing tour tickets is being adopted.

Rejected, at least for the present, is a suggestion from the office of Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., that the early morning regular public tours — be abolished.

Instead, tour office director Nancy Willing met Monday with Frank Moore, President Carter's assistant for congressional liaison, and decided to try a new system of ticket distribution that hopefully will make it easier for senators and House members to claim their weekly allotment of tickets.

Roy Greenaway, Cranston's administrative assistant, said the old system was inequitable and required time-wasting letter writing and phone calling between Capitol Hill and the White House.

Instead of soliciting individual ticket requests, Moore and Miss Willing said, each congressional office now will fill out request forms once a day, which will be picked up daily by White House messengers. On the following day the messenger will return with names of constituents being given tickets, along with a notation of the day and time they will be expected at the White House.

This should sharply reduce tours — not to be confused with the flow of letters and phone calls, Moore said, and give Miss Willing's staff more time to deal with special requests over and above each Congress member's weekly allotment.

House members routinely get 10 tickets a week, senators 15 to 20. They are coveted because they convey an element of status. Moreover, ticket holders do not have to stand in long lines and, once inside the White House, receive better guide service than regular visitors. They also see the China Room, named for its display of dishes from many administrations, which is not included on regular tours.

Miss Willing said an average of 1,300 visitors a day take the VIP tours, Tuesday through Saturday. The tours were initiated during the presidency of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Vice President Walter F. Mondale is known widely to enjoy more influence, and wield greater responsibility, than most men who have held the office. Indeed, perhaps more and greater than anyone else.

There are limits, however, to what Mondale can do. He cannot, for example, use Carter's private elevator unless the President is with him and invites him inside the tiny conveyance, which goes between the White House basement and Carter's living quarters, with a stop along the way outside the State Dining Room.

Reporters have found Mondale, on several occasions, hoofing it up and down a narrow marble stairway that parallels the course of the elevator, which was empty each time.

White House Press Secretary Judy Powell seems to have an excellent track record for faithfully reflecting Carter's views. Challenging him on that score almost always proves unrewarding.

On a recent occasion, a reporter was skeptical when Powell said Carter had no comment to offer on a particular subject. Faced with a demand that he check to make sure, Powell subsequently issued the following written statement: "The President agrees he has no comment."

Wayne Welfare Probe Nets 11

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A state probe into Wayne County welfare fraud has resulted in the arrests of 11 persons accused of bilking taxpayers out of more than $57,383 in four separate schemes over the past four years.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said the recipients collected welfare payments ranging from $1,714 to $11,757 while holding regular jobs. They were arrested Monday and Tuesday.

Five are current or former state employees who were identified during a computer match-up of persons on the state payroll in 1976 who were also getting welfare, Kelley said. The others were privately employed.

The arrests were part of an ongoing investigation that saw seven persons arrested in May for the same type of fraud. All seven have pleaded guilty to felony charges and have been ordered to make restitution or put on probation.

The arrests followed an investigation by the inspector general and the attorney general's welfare fraud investigation unit.

Charged with welfare fraud are Carolyn E. Theizer, 39, Detroit, an employee of Michigan Wisconsin pipeline Co. accused of collecting $8,801; Theresa Scott, 40, Detroit, a Ford Motor Co. employee, $11,757; Elaine McLeod, 27, Detroit, Chrysler Corp., $6,601; Marcia Giddens, 22, Detroit, state worker, $5,218; Francine Cooper, 26, Ypsilanti, Ford Motor Co. and Aerofab Co., $6,095.

Christine Goolbsy, 36, Detroit, Faet Fuel Services, $9,575; Peggy Greathouse, Detroit, state worker, $2,868; Etta Spight, Detroit, state worker, $2,700; Pearl Richardson, 49, Detroit state worker, $2,030; Tracey Green, 22 and Ernest Green, 23, both of Detroit, $1,714. Tracey Green is identified as a part-time state employee.

POLICE ROUNDUP

Man Identified As Guard Is Arrested

Stevensville police said today they arrested a man who identified himself as a prison guard in Michigan City, Ind., after the man could not produce concealed weapon permits for a .387 magnum pistol and a can of chemical repellent.

Patrolman Sieg Freitag reported Thomas K. Logan, 24, of Route 1, Bridgman, was lodged in the Berrien county jail on two charges of carrying concealed weapons after a parked car on Fairview near Bluff street, was investigated at 12:45 a.m. and the handgun and repellent seized.

Freitag said Logan identified himself as a guard at the Indiana State Prison, Michigan City.

Berrien sheriff's officers said Wednesday they are investigating a railroad boxcar break-in on a Conrail siding south of Eau Claire.

Deputy Sam Donoho reported a boxcar owned by the Missouri Pacific railroad and loaded with lumber being shipped to College Wood Products at Andrews university, Berrien Springs, was broken into between 3 p.m. Tuesday and 9 a.m. Wednesday. Donoho said Wood Products personnel would inventory the cargo to determine if any lumber was taken.

The boxcar cargo remained technically the property of Townsend Robinson Lumber company, of Memphis, Tenn., because the break-in occurred before delivery to College Wood Products had been made, Donoho said.

Benton Harbor police said a typewriter valued at $140 was reported stolen from the Model Cities office, 809 Territorial road, Wednesday morning. City police also said a television valued at $120 was stolen from the Alfred Durkee residence, 344 Fifth street.

Berrien sheriff's officers reported a tape player valued at $220 was taken from an auto owned by Bruce Marschke, of 1438 Wilson road, Lincoln township, while the car was parked at Rocky Gap park, Benton township, Wednesday.

St. Joseph police said $300 in change was stolen from the gas dock office of the St. Joseph River Yacht club, 273 Prospect street, between 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and 10 a.m. Wednesday.

Benton township police said Howard Christians, vice president of Ashley Ford, 1074 East Napier avenue, reported Wednesday vandals had scratched the finish on five new cars parked at the dealership. Christians told police he estimated the damage at a total of $250.

Two-Deer Bill Signed

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan hunters will be permitted to kill two deer a year under a bill signed into law by Gov. William Milliken. The bill also ends the Upper Peninsula deer hunting season Dec. 15. Previous law permitted deer hunting until Dec. 31. The new law permits a hunter to bag one deer by gun and another by bow and arrow in the same calendar year. Previously, hunters were limited to one deer a year. Supporters said few hunters would use both guns and bows to hunt deer, so the additional deer take will be small.

Power's Out Up North

About 2,000 persons lost electricity today in Westford and Benzie counties in the northwestern Lower Peninsula. Officials Consumers Power Co. said they did not immediately know what caused the power to go out in the Manton and Harrietta areas of Westford County at 7:30 a.m. Earlier about 350 Consumers customers in Benzie County lost power for six hours when a tree fell across a power line. Service was restored in the Benzie-Lake Township area about 7:30 a.m.

Ouster Claims 'Untrue'

DETROIT (AP) — Claims that consumer watchdog Charles Chomet was ousted from the Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield board of directors for creating dissent are untrue, says Dr. James Woodruff, chairman of the board. Appearing Wednesday on an interview program on Detroit radio station WCAR, Woodruff said dissent is a hallmark of the blues' board. He said the publicity surrounding Chomet's ouster has created the impression that Chomet's wisdom and intelligence is greater than the collective wisdom and intelligence of the entire board. He did not, however, elaborate on the reasons the board voted last week to remove Chomet from the body. Woodruff added that it would not be "productive" for Chomet to be re-nominated to the board, as several state officials and consumer groups have urged.

Gas Blast Averted

NOVI, Mich. (AP) — Disaster was narrowly averted when a railroad tank car carrying 34,000 gallons of highly explosive fuel ran off the tracks near here and overturned Wednesday. Police said the tank car, carrying volatile liquefied butane, remained intact and none of its contents leaked out. When exposed to air, the chemical becomes a highly explosive gas, police said. The tank car was part of a Chesapeake and Ohio freight train bound for Saginaw. The derailment occurred while the train was changing tracks at a siding. The damage estimate to five cars was $15,000. There were no injuries.

Bound Over For Trial

mitted to having sexual intercourse with the victim as she lay injured in the trunk of the car.

A Kulamawo pathologist, Dr. Daniel Glaser, testified later that there was no conclusive evidence that the girl had been sexually assaulted at the time of her death. He said that sperm found during an autopsy appeared to be from two to five days old. He also said it appeared Miss Wilson had been beaten twice.

Rank said in continuing his testimony of Johnson's statements that after finding Miss Wilson in the trunk Johnson said a vehicle approached the scene. Fearing he would be blamed for the crime Johnson said he put the rest of the body in the trunk, according to Rank.

The vehicle that came upon the scene contained three Bangor youths who were former classmates of both the victim and Johnson. Johnson is a 1975 graduate of Bangor high school and was an athlete while a student.

Anthony Marr, a passenger in the vehicle, testified yesterday he recognized Johnson at the scene. Marr said Johnson ordered him and his friends, Richard Abbott and Mike Hills, to get away.

Marr said that as they left they thought they heard the muffled cries of a woman pleading for help.

Marr said he and his friends drove about 100 yards when they decided to return to investigate, but as they did the car by which they had seen Johnson drove away. Marr then went to his house and called police.

Rank testified that Johnson admitted in the statement to having driven the car with Miss Wilson in the trunk to the spot where it was located by police. He also admitted to having attempted to set the car on fire by stuffing paper and the woman's clothing in the gas tank. Rank said, Johnson said he extinguished the fire, however, when a car approached.

Pathologist Glaser testified Miss Wilson died from massive

LIGHT POLE TOPPLED: St. Joseph Patrolman Jim Reeves inspects base of light pole felled by Lincoln Continental on Port street across from Berrien county jail. Reeves said Charles F. Calloway, 39, of 7084 Blue Star highway, Hagar township, was booked at jail on charge of driving under influence of intoxicants after treatment for facial cuts at Memorial hospital. According to police, Calloway was driving west on Twin Cities Bicentennial bridge at 1:35 a.m. today and failed to negotiate curve at west end of span, sideswiping one steel light pole before toppling second. Calloway was reported alone at time of crash. (Staff photo)

Saw Blonde In Purnell's Window, Witness Claims

By PAULA HOLMES

CHARLEVOIX — A former neighbor of David Jordan Purnell testified in the murder trial of Purnell Wednesday that he saw a blonde haired young woman standing in the picture window of Purnell's Benton township apartment the night Janet Uland disappeared in 1971.

Donald Blythe also testified in court here that he heard screaming coming from the direction of the Purnell apartment and that he later spotted dried blood on the sidewalk in front of the home. Blythe said he knew Purnell's wife was in the hospital at that time.

Lead witnesses for the prosecution Wednesday were Linda and Donald Blythe and Purnell's ex-wife, Mrs. Richard (Pam) Krieger.

Purnell, 29, is being retried on a charge of second degree murder in connection with the 1971 slaying of Janet Uland, 20, of St. Joseph. Purnell was convicted in 1972, sentenced to life in prison, then won a retrial when the conviction was overturned.

Other witnesses Wednesday included Michigan State Police Sgt. Wesley Hancey who with the assistance of a young boy and a metal detector found Miss Uland's purse, and Charles Boonstra, M.D., who performed the autopsy on Miss Uland.

Witnesses expected to take the stand today include Darlene Ovik, Paul Retz and Don Schoonmaker.

The retrial, which is being held in Charlevoix on a change of venue, is attracting attention from local Charlevoix residents. During the proceedings, various city and county officials and employees have filled the gallery of the courtroom along with local newspaper and radio representatives.

It has been five years since a murder trial involving a Charlevoix county resident has been held in the courthouse. However, another murder trial was held in Charlevoix three years ago on a change of venue.

Car Leaves Crash Scene, Police Say

A driver left the scene of a traffic accident in which three people were injured Wednesday afternoon, Benton township police reported.

Patrolman David Parsons said a motorist driving a light green auto drove away after being involved in a two-car collision at the intersection of Britain avenue and Martin Luther King drive at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday.

According to Parsons, Oscar Franklin, 67, and his wife Violet, 63, of 3903 Atherton, Coloma, suffered slight injuries in a collision with a second auto. A second passenger in the Franklin auto, Ellen Franklin, 16, also sustained minor injuries in the crash, Parsons said.

The police report did not indicate the relationship of Ellen Franklin to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin. Police did not report if those injured were treated after the accident.

Berrien sheriff's officers said Timothy Hayes, 21, of 1978 West Rocky Wood road, Stevensville, was treated at Memorial hospital Wednesday for bruises after a motorcycle accident in a private field west of Cleveland avenue and south of John Beers road, Lincoln township.

Deputies said Hayes and Shelby Fritz, 17, whose address was also listed as 1978 West Rocky Wood, both fell from a motorcycle they were riding in the field at 3:30 p.m. Shelby Fritz suffered cuts, they said.

The sheriff's report did not indicate who was driving the cycle when the accident occurred.

New Family Makes A Big Hit At Fair

By TOM SAWYER
Staff Writer

HARTFORD — The Dick Stuart family moved to their farm north of Paw Paw just about eight months ago and three young members of the family made their debut at the Van Buren youth fair yesterday a memorable "family affair."

Young Mike and Little Paula walked off with grand champion ribbons for their sheep and swine entries respectively, while Patti won the top prize for sheep in the 14 and 15-year-old (senior 1) class and the sweeps-takes trophy.

Mike, 12, won with his Hampshire sheep entry, while eight-year-old Paula's entry was a 220-pound Duroc.

Underway today are judging for dairy cattle, poultry and rabbits; pony hitch and pony pull. The youth livestock auction is set for 6 p.m. and Dan Fleenor's "Hell Drivers" auto thrill show at 8 p.m.

Grand Champion swine pairs went to David Roosevelt, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Roosevelt of route 2, Decatur (Keeler township). He showed 210 and 215-pound Hampshires. It was his first ever entry into the youth fair.

Reserve grand champions included Allen Taylor, Decatur, for sheep; Angie Stamp, Decatur, individual hog; and Jeff Melvin, Bloomington, swine pairs.

The grand champion sheep exhibitor, Mike Stuart, said he had entered the Hillsdale county fair for years prior to his entry into the Van Buren fair. For little Paula, it was her first venture at a county fair. The Stuarts moved from Hillsdale to their farm at route 3, 3 1/2 street, Paw Paw, in December.

Winners in various other categories at yesterday's fair included:

SHEEP

SWINE

Senior 11 showmanship — Elaine Boer, Gobles; Senior 1 showmanship — Susan Molin, Bloomington; Junior showmanship — David Flory, Decatur; Young showmanship — Janet Rigini, Decatur; lightweight singles — Elaine Boer, Gobles; middleweight singles — Paula Stuart, Paw Paw; heavyweight singles — David Roosevelt, Decatur; breeding — Angie Stamp, Decatur.

Fair officials said judging in the dairy goat competition went on until past 1 a.m. today and results of the competition were not available this morning.

Results of the tractor pull contest in classes A through F were identified by fair officials as:

For the second straight year the Geneva Wrens of South Haven and Bangor were grand prize winners in the pet parade. They entered as a horse-mounted 1800's style cavalry unit. Other division winners in the parade included: Chris Rohle, Lawrence; Lauri Buell, Bloomington; Carrie Gumpfer, Mattawan; Jari Haas, Paw Paw; Greg French, Paw Paw; Jim Wisely, Gobles; Susan Adgerly, Hartford; and Mindy Drummond, Mattawan.

Fair attendance yesterday, 7,080, was up 20 per cent over the same day last year, according to M.J. Conklin, fair co-manager. The attendance brought the total attendance to 16,480 this far.

The fair is located off CR-681 near Red Arrow highway about halfway between Hartford and Lawrence. The fair runs through Saturday.

TOP HOG: Paula Stuart, 8, shows off her individual hog grand champ at fair. Winner is 220-pound Duroc. She also placed first in middleweight market hog class. She and brother, Mike, of Paw Paw, both won grand champion titles at fair. Another sister, Patti, placed first in her showmanship class.

Youth Breaks Leg In Farm Accident

THREE OAKS — A 14-year-old rural Three Oaks boy was hospitalized last night after he fell beneath a moving wagon on his uncle's farm south of here.

Listed in fair condition this morning at LaPorte, Ind., hospital was Theodore Shott, 14, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Shott, route 1, Three Oaks.

Three Oaks police said the boy was injured while helping to bail hay on the Ivan Hooper farm on Forest Lawn road about 10:45 p.m. Mrs. Hooper said the boy, her nephew, missed when he attempted to jump onto a moving wagon.

A rear wheel of the wagon ran over his leg, Mrs. Hooper said. She said her nephew suffered a broken leg and several cracked ribs.

Lie Detector Board Accused Of Conflict

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A state representative has asked Gov. William Milliken to replace the entire five-man board that licenses lie detector operators in the Michigan. Rep. George Cushingberry, D-Detroit, charged the board chairman with a conflict of interest. He accused the board as a whole of incompetence, favoritism and abuse of authority. Cushingberry said in a letter delivered to Milliken Tuesday that Leni Marcy, chairman of the state Board of Polygraph Examiners, owns two businesses in Dearborn that were affected by routine police decisions of the board. The Detroit Democrat charged Marcy had the name of one of his firms included on the board's official letterheads. He also said the board favored clients of Marcy's polygraph school by giving them preferential treatment in their bid for licenses. A spokesman said Milliken will respond to Cushingberry's request in a few days.

More Berrien People Working

More people were working in Berrien county last month than at any time since September, 1974, but the county's unemployment rate took a slight rise.

The Michigan Employment

Security Commission (MESC) reported an estimated 71,400 people were on jobs in June. The unemployment rate was 7.5 per cent compared to 7 per cent in May.

The rate increased because more young people were in the labor market looking for jobs which didn't increase quite as fast as the labor supply.

In September, 1974, there were 74,400 employed in the county. June's job total was up 700 from May and 4,000 more than June, 1976.

The total labor force last month was 77,200 workers, an increase of 1,200 over May and 600 more than June, 1976. MESC reported. The number of unemployed in June was the same as April's figure — 5,800 — which is 500 more than May. In June, 1976, there 9,200 unemployed workers in Berrien.

Prior to June, the unemployment rate in the county had dropped every month this year, and December was the last month with a double digit unemployment rate.

The MESC reported the number of people in wage and salary employment increased by 600 over May and 1,500 over April. The number employed in manufacturing industries dropped in June to 27,000, a decrease of 100 since May, but employment in non-manufacturing industries showed a gain to 29,300, up 700 from May.

Charter Foes Prefer Present Niles Rule

By JOHN DYE

South Berrien Bureau
NILES — "Undemocratic."
"Too much power in the hands of one man."
"Citizen participation eliminated."
"We can do the work ourselves."
These and other reasons have been voiced by Niles residents who have spoken out against a proposed new charter for the city.

On Aug. 2, city voters will be asked for the eighth time in 17 years to approve a new charter. All previous attempts have been voted down in the past, and opponents of the measure think they know why.

The proposed charter would eliminate most of the over 20 independent boards and commissions that are now charged with overseeing operation of various city departments.

By replacing the state's Fourth Class Cities Act of 1893, the new proposed charter would also establish a city manager to take over day to day operation of the city.

The proposed city manager and elimination of these boards were both sore spots with all those charter opponents interviewed.

"One man rule... power to life individual. I'm fearful that a strong personality would have the city council working for him, not him working for the city council," said charter opponent Larry Clymer.

Clymer is a candidate for mayor in the Republican party's Aug. 2 primary, and his post as chairman of the board of public works would be eliminated under the proposed charter.

By keeping the boards (such as the board of public safety which oversees the police and fire departments), Clymer argued that over 100 people would continue to serve the city on a volunteer, unpaid basis. That involvement is "good" for the city, he added.

Richard Graham, a former city alderman and candidate for the post again this year, said the board members have roots in the community and would probably be more concerned about Niles than an "outsider" (city manager).

"People know where their tax dollars are going because they are serving on these boards," said Graham, who was the only member of the commission which drafted the charter to oppose it. "We can do the work (management of the city) ourselves," he said, contending the expense of a city manager was not necessary.

Atty. Mowitt S. Drew, Niles

mayor for 1958 to 1964, argued the city manager form would be "undemocratic." He said there would be "too much central power — power that is now in the hands of the various board members."

Drew said he realized that with the boards, the city might not be run efficiently, "but the most efficient form would be a dictatorship."

Graham and Mayor Robert Woodbridge both took issue with a claim by charter advocates that city residents do not know who to see when they have questions or complaints about city services because of the large number of boards, and a city council and mayor serving the city. Both argued citizens could contact their alderman or mayor directly, who could provide the answers or at least point the citizen in the right direction.

Charter advocates have also argued that with a $3.2 million budget, the city needs a full time administrator and a man to guide the city through a growing jungle of state and federal red tape. But Clymer claimed that even with a city manager, the city would still have to seek outside advisors to apply for federal and state grants and loans.

Clymer said he is aware of the need for paid professional advisors and consultants, but he said he would oppose a city manager who could become a "political servant" of elected aldermen and the mayor.

Clymer said one way he could be convinced that a city manager is needed for the city is "...when people are convinced that the President of the United States should be appointed, and not elected."

TOMORROW: Arguments for adoption of the new charter.

Fourth Article Tells Why They Oppose It

EDITORS NOTE: Niles voters have continued to reject a proposed new city charter over the past 17 years. In this fourth in a series of six articles, opponents of the plan state why they have spoken out against the proposal. Currently the city gets its authority to operate under the Fourth Class Cities Act of 1893. The proposed home rule charter would replace the state act. It proposes a city council-city manager form of government to replace the current weak mayor-council form now in operation in the city.

Arroyo Halts White Sox Winning Streak

By FRED GOODALL
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Half of Fernando Arroyo's victories in 1977 have come against the Chicago White Sox. But despite his success, Arroyo says he doesn't groove on pitching against the American League West Division leaders.

"They're all tough outs. There's no time that you can relax and take it easy. The minute you do, then they come at you," Arroyo said Wednesday night after pitching 7 1/3 strong innings in the Detroit Tigers' 3-1 victory over Chicago.

The triumph halted Arroyo's record to 6-9 and ended a six-game personal losing streak. It was the right-hander's third win in four decisions against the White Sox this season.

"No, I haven't been doing anything special against Chicago. I've pitched well against everybody. The problem has been we haven't been able to get any runs when I'm in there," said Arroyo, who hadn't won a game since June 15.

"I was in complete control of my game tonight," said Arroyo. "With a one run lead, I tried to get too fine in the eighth. I've been known to give up home runs in the late innings when I've got a lead. So psychologically I think that hurt me."

Arroyo scattered eight hits, struck out two and walked three before reliever John Hiller bailed him out of a jam in the eighth inning.

Leading 2-1 on the strength of Aurelio Rodriguez' two-run homer in the second, Arroyo ran into trouble when Jorge Orta walked with one out in the eighth and Richie Zisk followed with a single sending Orta in third. That's when Hiller came on and put out the fire by striking out pinch-hitter Lamar Johnson and Chet Lemon to gain his fifth save.

"We were about due for one of these games," said Chicago Manager Bob Lemon, who saw a six-game winning streak halted.

"We started out hitting the ball hard and kept hitting it hard. But it didn't lead to anything."

The White Sox jumped on Arroyo for their lone run in the first. Ralph Garr and Alan Bannister singled and Zisk walked to load the bases before Oscar Gamble hit into a run-scoring force-out.

Rodriguez' home run, his fifth of the year, followed a walk to Mickey Stanley in the second and wiped out the 1-0 Chicago lead. The Tigers added an insurance run in the ninth on Tito Fuentes' RBI single off loser Wilbur Wood, 5-3, who went the distance for Chicago.

"I got a fast ball right out over the plate," said Rodriguez, who has been slowed by injuries while appearing in only 38 games this season. "He usually throws me all knuckleballs, but with a man on first and the count 3-1, I thought he might try a fast ball."

"That one pitch is what did it," said Lemon. "He (Wood) was trying not to walk him and made a mistake."

The loss was the first for Wood in his last five decisions and left the Sox with a four-game lead over the Kansas City Royals in the AL West.

Both teams are idle today. Friday night, the Tigers open a three-game series at Texas, while the White Sox remain at home for four games against the Royals.

NCAA Automatic Cage Berths Cut

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Two years from now, the Division I Basketball Committee of the NCAA is going to emerge from behind closed doors with bad news for a handful of athletic conferences.

Beginning with the 1980 NCAA national basketball tournament, only the 16 conferences with the best tournament records over the past five years will receive automatic qualifications. In the 1977 tournament, there were 21 automatic qualifiers and 11 at-large berths.

The Division I Basketball Committee, which recently voted in the rules, will meet in the summer of 1979 to review each conference's tournament performance the previous five years.

If the new restrictions had been in effect for this year's tournament, the Ohio Valley, Ivy League and Southwest Conference, all with 1-6 tournament marks the past five years, would have tied for the final 16th invitation.

Other conferences which might be in jeopardy by 1979 are the Pacific Coast Athletic Association, with a tournament percentage the past five years of .333, and the Mid-American, Big Sky and Missouri Valley conferences, with 37 per cent percentages.

"The NCAA is committed to having the best 32 teams in the tournament," said Tom Jernstedt, assistant executive director. "The committee felt obligated to devise a more demanding criteria to make sure the best teams are given a chance to compete."

The new procedures, certain to generate controversy, are subject to approval by the NCAA's Executive Committee, which meets Aug. 11-12 in Greensboro, N.C.

"I anticipate there will be considerable discussion by the Executive Committee," Jernstedt said. "But the Executive Committee generally responds favorably to sports committee recommendations."

Eighteen conference champions now get automatic invitations. The 36-member Eastern College Athletic Conference gets three automatics for its three sectional champions, but the NCAA Council is reviewing the ECAC's compliance with automatic qualification criteria. If the ECAC is found to meet the criteria, the Basketball Committee will recommend it receive only two berths.

Last year's 32 tournament teams enjoyed record receipts and attendance, and the tournament's popularity is projected to keep rising. The 1977 tourney netted $5,378,825.50, with half going to the NCAA national office and half divided among the competitors. Just by qualifying, a team was guaranteed $35,387.08, in addition to travel and per diem expenses.

"The tournament has become more important and more prestigious to colleges," Jernstedt said. "Conferences all want automatic qualification for their champion. Up to now, the granting of automatic berths has not been as demanding as it might be."

PIRATE WIN STRING AT SEVEN

Biittner Helps Cubs Gain Split

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
CHICAGO (AP) — Larry Biittner poked a single through a drawn-in infield, scoring Gene Cline with the winning run as the Chicago Cubs rallied for five runs in the eighth inning to defeat the Cincinnati Reds 5-1 and earn a split of a doubleheader Wednesday.

Mario Soto posted his first major league victory and George Foster ripped his 32nd homer, two singles and a sacrifice fly in the Reds' 6-2 triumph in the opener. That victory snapped an eight-game Cincinnati losing streak.

Ivan DeJesus opened the eighth inning of the nightcap with a triple off loser Doug Capilla, 2-3. Pinch-hitter Cline then hit a slow bouncer up the middle. Dave Concepcion gloved it, but DeJesus beat his throw to the plate to tie the game. Jose Cardenal's single sent Cline to third before Biittner's game-winning hit past second baseman Joe Morgan.

Bobby Murcer then walked to load the bases and Jerry Morales drove in Cardenal with a sacrifice fly to center. Steve Ontiveros singled in another run and the fifth run scored on

Steve Renko, 1-1, retired 21 men in a row after the Reds scored in the first. Bill Plummer doubled with two out in the eighth to end the string. Renko allowed only three hits, walked none and struck out five in eight innings. Willie Hernandez worked the ninth.

In the first game, Johnny Bench singled home Foster in the eighth for the fourth run and has 1,000th career RBI. He's only the fourth catcher in major league history and the third Red to reach that plateau.

Soto was making his first major league start since he was called up from the Reds' Indianapolis Triple A farm team during the All Star break. He went all the way, striking out eight and allowing nine hits.

Elsewhere, it was Lucky 7 night for the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Bucs extended their winning streak to seven games and Rennie Stennett drove in his seventh game-winning run of the season.

"In the last couple of games, I've had the RBI that tied the game, but not the game-winning RBI," Stennett said after the Pirates downed Houston 3-2 in 11 innings. "For me, the biggest thing is to make a great play or get the hit that wins the game."

Stennett's winning single came with Bill Robinson on third and none out. Robinson, whose ninth-inning homer sent the game into extra innings, had walked off Bo McLaughlin, 3-5, and went all the way to third when McLaughlin threw away Al Oliver's bat.

Houston scored twice in the sixth on Art Howe's single and Roger Metzger's double.

In other National League games, New York downed San Francisco 7-4; St. Louis whipped Atlanta 5-3; San Diego downed Montreal 7-5, and Los Angeles beat Philadelphia 7-5.

Rookie Steve Henderson, acquired in the trade that sent Tom Seaver to Cincinnati, knocked in two runs with a triple and a single and the Mets got a season-high 10 hits against the Giants.

Jim Maultack, 6-12, got the win after pitching five innings and leaving with a lightning muscle in his left shoulder. Bob Knepper, 4-5, was the loser.

St. Louis broke a 3-3 tie in the seventh on a sacrifice fly by Gary Templeton and Tony Scott's infield hit. Atlanta had scored twice in the top of the seventh on four walks, Barry Bonnell's run-scoring grounder and a bunt single by Vic Currell.

Al Hrabosky, 3-4, got the win in relief of starter Tom Underwood.

Rookie Tucker Ashford's two-run homer in the bottom of the ninth gave San Diego its victory. George Hendrick drove in four Padres runs with a pair of two-run homers.

Pinch-hitter Lee Lacy hit a three-run home run in the eighth inning to boost Los Angeles over Philadelphia. Rookie left-hander Lance Rautzhan, who pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the eighth inning in relief of starter Don Sutton, earned his first major league victory.

Two Patriots May Sit Out Season

From ASSOCIATED PRESS
When the New England Patriots became the surprise team of the 1976 National Football League season and qualified for the playoffs, Coach Chuck Fairbanks gave credit to his vastly-improved offensive line.

Now, the left side of that line may want out.

Guard John Hannah and tackle Leon Gray threatened Wednesday to sit out the regular National Football League season unless the Patriots renegotiate their contracts.

However, Fairbanks — who doubles as the Patriots' general manager — said the club was "not interested in renegotiating their contracts at this time."

Both players said they intended to play the six exhibition games, but were undecided on the regular season. Both are under contract to the Patriots through 1978, with 1979 as an option year.

"It's possible I may not play this year," Hannah said. "I have given as much as anyone else to this ball club. I'm satisfied with what I've done, but I'm thinking of the future."

"You feel you should be paid for your performance," Gray said. "In other NFL training camp developments, Denver cornerback Calvin Jones left the Broncos' camp after refusing to sign a waiver regarding his physical status.

Jones, who started the first six games last season before suffering a knee injury, failed to meet the club's physical requirements because of that injury.

Washington running back Mike Thomas injured a hamstring muscle in his first day in camp after holding out for two days and being fined $1,000.

"As soon as a guy reports late, he gets hurt," said a perturbed George Allen, the Redskins coach. "It not only hurts a player personally, it hurts the team and it hurts the organization. Now he will fall further behind."

The Miami Dolphins reported that first-round draft choice A.J. Dube of Louisiana State was their only holdout. The 6-foot-4 defensive lineman was given a shot at a starting position before becoming a holdout.

"I'm just trying to get the best deal I can," Dube said. "I care a lot about making the club and being a team player. But I think it's important to feel mentally right when I get there — to feel I got a deal that's right for myself."

Also trying to make a good deal for himself is Houston defensive lineman Elvin Bethea.

Lion Camp Atmosphere More Relaxed This Year

By LARRY PALADINO
AP Sports Writer

OPINION:

The personnel might not be all that different, but the atmosphere in training camp seems to be.

Whether that'll make any difference for the perennially mediocre Detroit Lions this National Football League season remains to be seen.

At least there isn't the feeling that at any moment the players will start an insurrection. Last season under Coach Rick Forzano there was so much unhappiness that football took a back seat to training camp infighting.

Coach Tommy Hudspeth, beginning a three-year contract, is conducting his first camp. His chances of fielding a winner aside, he should be given credit for running a smooth operation.

There always are unhappy players in training camp, especially among those whose jobs are on the line. But individual revolt is so much easier to handle than mass revolt.

"Compared to when I came to camp last year and this year, the change in attitude is 100 per cent," said wide receiver J.D. Hill.

Offensive tackle Jim Yarbrough concurred: "Everyone on the team is more positive about our ballclub. There was so much turmoil the last two years. This is a more relaxed training camp. We're more concerned about the teams we're playing instead of the controversy in camp."

Hill, acquired last summer from Buffalo in exchange for the Lions' 1977 draft choice, said, "everybody is as positive as you can expect to be. Coach Hudspeth has laid everything down on the line that's gonna be a lot of hard work."

"We know what to expect. Last year everything was tight. Everybody was at everybody's neck. There was a lack of communication."

Hill, former Arizona State star in his seventh year in the NFL, called this year's training camp "snappy."

"Last year we'd work four hours," he said. "Guys were standing around. Now we work for an hour and a half (twice a day), do our work and get off the field. You're not losing your concentration. You know what you have to do and you get it done."

Hill called the work of the assistant coaches "super" because they are "constantly taking a positive attitude. If a guy has a problem, a coach will work with you. There's more individual attention."

Hudspeth's assistants are special teams coach Bill Belichick,

Dutsch, former Northern Michigan coach and Michigan State player from Escambia, is in his first year as a Lions assistant. Other first year Detroit aides are Hughes, Miller and Payne.

Yarbrough, Detroit's players' union representative last year, said there was a "bad atmosphere" last year. He walked out on Forzano for a few days.

The tension had something to do with the Lions' 6-8 record and third-place finish in the National Conference Central Division, he contends.

Brewers Finally Defeat 'Someone'

From ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We were due to beat somebody," said Milwaukee Brewers Manager Alex Grammas. "We just had a heck of a time finding someone to beat."

The "someone" was the Boston Red Sox, who dropped two games behind the Baltimore Orioles in the American League East race. And the Brewers beat them convincingly Wednesday night with a 14-5 victory.

"We had lost five in a row — all by one run, except for the first one, which was 3-1," Grammas said. "We had to explode sometime. It just happened it was tonight."

Don Money slammed a two-run homer and added two singles while Cecil Cooper and Von Joshua each had a pair of doubles and a single to pace the victory.

The explosion came in the final two innings. Boston was leading 5-3 when the Brewers scored four runs in the eighth, then added seven in the ninth as they collected 20 hits against four Red Sox pitchers.

Bob McClure, the third Milwaukee pitcher, earned the victory, his second this season without a loss.

In other AL games Wednesday, Baltimore downed New York 6-4, Detroit defeated Chicago 3-1, Kansas City nipped Cleveland 5-4, in 11 innings; California clubbed Oakland 9-3 and Minnesota stopped Seattle 4-1.

HOT PRACTICE: Members of the world champion Oakland Raiders go right on with practice Wednesday at their training camp in Santa Rosa, Calif., as smoke billows skyward in background from a fire which destroyed a tire recapping plant about a quarter of a mile away from the practice field. Identifiable Raiders are Otis Sistrunk (60), Henry Lawrence (70), Ted Hendricks (83) and Jeff Winans (62). This is the first week in camp for Raider veterans. (AP Wirephoto)

Joyce Facing New Challenge

By GEORGE STRODE
AP Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Joan Joyce has thrown 128 fast pitch softball no-hitters. In basketball, she averaged 25 points a game; in bowling, 180 pins. She has played in five national volleyball tournaments.

Now this natural athlete faces her biggest obstacle: golf.

"Golf is the toughest game, period — for anyone," said Miss Joyce, who is trying for her Ladies Professional Golf Association tour card this week at Perryburg, Ohio.

"Learning the skill of hitting a golf ball is not that tough. But taking the ball out on a course and against all those obstacles, that's tough."

"It's not like pitching a softball, where I can contend with humidity and the air currents. It's entirely different in golf."

The daughter of a Connecticut manufacturing foreman, then reeled off some of her golf frustrations.

"If I could just keep the ball in play, I hit a shot out-of-bounds today and one yesterday — there's four shots," said Miss Joyce.

house, I couldn't afford it," she said.

If she qualifies, Miss Joyce will not join the LPGA tour until September, after the pro softball season.

That's understandable. The right-hander has a 16-3 record and is batting .283 as a first baseman for the Connecticut Falcons, picking the International Women's Professional Softball Association with a 33-19 mark.

Miss Joyce's lifetime softball pitching statistics are staggering: 333 victories, 34 losses; 328 no-hitters, 39 perfect games; an 0.18 earned run average, 7.1-12 strikeouts in 4,385 innings, with just 756 walks and 888 hits.

In basketball, she was a three-time AAU All-American and played for the United States against the Russians. In volleyball, she founded the Connecticut Clippers and led them to five national titles. She averaged 180 in bowling. She finished seventh in the televised Women's Superstar competition in 1975.

Miss Joyce would swap all those credentials, however, for an accurate golf game.

Putts & Pars

WYNDWICKIE — Mary Ann Wesner had low gross and low net in the A flight while Pat Davine was tops with low putts. In the B flight, Jackie Haynes had the low net and gross and Burd Holtzman low putts.

CHIPPERS — Carolyn Truitt shot low gross and low net while Jean Richter and Dorothy Schwartz tied for low putts. Elsie Petroski won two special events.

PAW PAW LAKE — Jan Valtrah had the low gross of 40 on the front nine, while low net went to Edith Walker with a 30. Evelyn Kimbro had low putts with 10. Low gross on the back nine went to Darryl Camp with a 42. Betty Streuss and Betty Stowell tied for low net with 40. Low putts went to Jane Curtis with 12. Jan Valtrah and Dorothy Camp were tied for low net.

LUTHERAN MENS — Dan Like and Fred Rode tied for low gross at 40. George Graber shot 43. Like and Jerry Jeltz tied for low net at 32. Hans Hanks fired 42 and Rode and Graber 34.

LAKE MICHIGAN GOLF — Lee Newell fired 42 for low scratch. Brian Felner and Dick Spear had 45's. Low net went to Jim Petroski with 32. At 34 were Gary Johnson, Lee Newell and Ken Warren while Fort Knoss and Shirley Ogala carded 39's.

WOMEN'S LEAGUE — Jan Valtrah had the low gross of 40 on the front nine, while low net went to Edith Walker with a 30. Evelyn Kimbro had low putts with 10. Low gross on the back nine went to Darryl Camp with a 42. Betty Streuss and Betty Stowell tied for low net with 40. Low putts went to Jane Curtis with 12. Jan Valtrah and Dorothy Camp were tied for low net.

Gallen Requests Physical Exams

GALIEN — All athletes participating in Gallen fall sports should either make an appointment for a physical at the O'Malley Clinic in Gallen or with their personal physician as soon as possible. Physical cards are available at the Gallen high school office. All cards must be turned in to Martha Burns in the high school office before the first practice in each respective sport.

A two-out, three-run double by Butch Wynegar in the top of the ninth inning powered Minnesota past Seattle. Wynegar's bases-loaded line drive just inside the first base line wound up behind a foam rubber pad in foul territory. By the time Lee Stanton could retrieve the ball, all three runners had crossed the plate.

SOUTH HAVEN — Jim Sankofski singled in the winning run in the fourth frame and South Haven went on to score four more in the sixth as the home team downed Dowagiac 8-3 in a Blue-Gray game Wednesday.

had two RBIs.

Jeff Nate was the losing hurler and Larry McLaughlin had two of Dowagiac's five hits.

Dowagiac remains in the Blue division at 18-1. St. Joseph Legion Post 163 is second at 16-5.

Bob Hulse bunted home the tying run in the ninth inning, then scored the winning run in the 11th on George Brett's single as Kansas City nipped Cleveland. Slugger John Mayberry surprised Cleveland with a lead-off bunt in the ninth and tallied on a triple by Amos Otis. Hulse then laid down a suicide squeeze bunt to secure Otis and knot the game at 4-1.

Smith Standout

Winning pitcher Frank Smith collected four hits, including a triple, to lead St. Paul's to a 2-1 St. Joe Church League victory over St. Joe Congregational Tuesday. Harvey Johnson, Vern Prevatt and Carl Spessard slammed homers for the winners. Preer had five hits for Congregational.

Boys Baseball

BLOSSOMLAND — Babe Ruth — Bob Bucholtz' two-run two-out single in the top of the sixth gave the Cubs a 7-6 win over the White Sox. The victory clinched at least a share of the league title for the Cubs. Kevin Thomas was the winning pitcher in relief of starter Duane Ors. Bucholtz also had a double for the winners, while Chris Vaple collected a two-run single. Horton had a triple and a single for the losers.

YOUNGEST CHANNEL SWIMMER: David Morgan, 13, of England, gives a double thumbs-up gesture after returning to Folkestone Tuesday night from a successful swim across the English Channel. Morgan became the youngest person to make the crossing when he swam from Dover to Wissant, France, in 11 hours and 5 minutes. With him are his mother Pam and father Trevor, who also is his trainer. Decatur In First Decatur moved into first place in the wild Southwest Connie Muck East division with a 14-7 victory over Gobles Wednesday night.

Kurt Wiese got the win and added two hits. Steve Overley and Tim McLeese each added two safeties and Dan Druskowich drove in three runs. Decatur had 11 hits in the contest.

Kraig Smith had two hits and Rick Kling drove in three runs for Gobles, now 6-5.

Decatur is on top with a 9-1 record, Bangor is second at 8-4, and Paw Paw stands third at 7-1.

Don Meredith Looking Forward To Return To ABC

NEW YORK (AP) — The night before Don Meredith was to be officially welcomed back to ABC with a press conference in New York, all the power went out in the city.

"Is that an omen do you think?" says Meredith. "My gosh, I wonder what that means."

Whatever it means it hasn't discouraged the personable ex-quarterback from leaving NBC and returning to ABC from whence he came three years ago. Meredith will display his laid-back, easy style of commentary on Monday Night Football this season as part of a new five-year deal with the network.

Terms of the contract also call for Meredith to appear in a slew of made-for-TV movies. He may turn up occasionally on another ABC sports presentation. He may even be part of the network's 1980 Winter Olympics team. But it is Monday Night Football where he will be most evident.

Meredith teamed with Howard Cosell and Keith Jackson in 1970 when Monday Night Football began. One year later Frank Gifford replaced Jackson and the trio made TV history of sorts with a unique blend of humor, trivia, razz-matazz and friendly needling. Meredith left in 1974 to further his acting career on NBC and was eventually replaced by Alex Karras. Now he's back.

"I just wanted to go back to ABC. It's as simple as that," he says. "There were no major negative things about NBC. I didn't get mad at anybody and nobody got mad at me."

"I just wanted the opportunity to work with the programming people at ABC. If I'm going to broaden my base of interests the best place is ABC."

"I really feel my head is in better shape now for Monday Night Football. When I left I was being lumped in the category of a traveling freak show."

Meredith's role on the Monday night games is well defined. "Frank does the play-by-play and keeps the whole thing on the road," says Meredith. "Howard comes out of left field, right field, center field, off the wall." And Meredith provides the humor and a good, easy-going counterpoint to Cosell's rantings.

"I find it easy to work with Howard," says Meredith. "Whatever you may think, Howard is good at what he does. He goes off a tangent sometimes and irritates me like anybody else. But I don't go in there to cut him down."

"Some people think I have a list of jokes but I don't. I just try to respond to the game as a fan who happens to have a great seat. I just want to see a good ball game. I like offensive football and a good 37-34 game is the easiest to do. There's so much to say."

"But every so often you get one of those 6-3 games in the mud and nobody's done anything. I mean, my gosh, what are you going to say?"

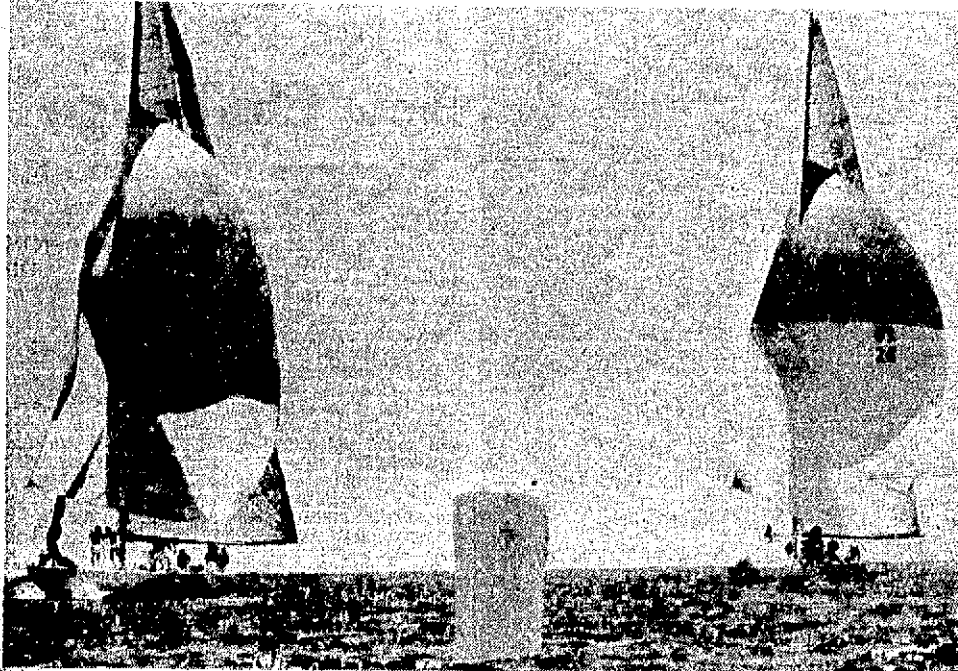

Meredith has nothing but praise for his former cohort at NBC, Curt Gowdy. "Curt was always extremely well prepared and I thought we had a nice blend of play-by-play and color," he says. "At ABC, with three men in the booth, you have to be a little more careful. You don't want to step on anyone's tongue."

ABC does one game a week and can employ more equipment and gear up for it more than NBC can with its mostly regional coverage on Sunday afternoons. Also, the Monday night game is a prime time presentation and that calls for more show biz than is customary with a sports show.

"ABC has a stronger flair for entertainment," he says. "We have one game a week. It's not terribly unlike episodic television. I don't know whether that's good or bad for the game, but we are aware it is prime time."

The big thing Meredith regrets about leaving NBC is missing the 1980 Summer Olympics in Moscow. He is hoping to be part of ABC's Winter Games in Lake Placid. "About the only misunderstanding I had with ABC was that up until a week before the 1972 Olympics in Munich I thought I was going to be included in the broadcast team. As it turned out I was not. I WAS UPSET ABOUT THAT."

But this is water over the dam. Dandy Don is back home and Monday Night Football should be the better for it.

CLOSE CHASE: Ted Turner in Courageous, right, relentlessly pursued Lowell North and Enterprise in a slow light air race Wednesday as the America's Cup Observation concluded off Newport, R.I. Turner eventually won the close-fought race, but finished second to North for the 10-day series. (AP Wirephoto)

TAKES NEUTRAL POSITION

'Fan' Kuhn Enjoys Game

By FRED ROTHENBERG

AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — With the aid of a handful of hot dogs, two bags of peanuts and a couple of beers, baseball fan Bowie Kuhn took in Wednesday night's Baltimore-New York game at Yankee Stadium.

Kuhn evidently enjoys baseball games and the between-pitch chatter that is as much a part of the game as balls and strikes.

"A baseball game is an evening of sociability," he says. "The fans come here to watch baseball and to talk baseball."

"Counting the World Series and playoffs I see about 50 or 60 games a year in person," said baseball's commissioner since 1969.

"Most nights, if there's a ball game on television, I'll watch it. And when I go to bed, I flip the dial on my radio. I can pick up the Red Sox (Boston), Orioles (Baltimore), Philadelphia and, occasionally, Cincinnati."

Yankee Manager Billy Martin and Oriole skipper Earl Weaver bring their lineup cards to home plate. Martin, his job a day-by-day proposition, receives a standing ovation from the crowd. He tips his cap. So does Weaver. The fans give Weaver a Bronx cheer.

"I like that, I like what Martin did, what Weaver did and what the fans did," said Kuhn. "There's a sense of humor in baseball. Baseball brings out colorful personalities. It's a gossipy game. That's part of our attractiveness."

"The weather is perfect for the game between two teams in the thick of the race for the American League East Division flag. Kuhn says he loves hot weather. Billy Smith opens the game by lining Catfish Hunter's first pitch over the right-field wall. Kuhn takes a neutral position, a stance he maintains throughout the game.

"I have an idea who I want to win the game. Basically I root for the pennant races. When I was in Japan in 1971 with the Kansas City Royals, I finally got a chance to root. I cheered like crazy for the Royals, of course."

Baltimore pitcher Jim Palmer is throwing a no-hitter into the fourth inning.

"I've been watching baseball games since '36 and I've never seen a no-hitter. I think I saw a no-hitter once. Maybe it was Dutch Leonard."

The Yankees tied the game 1-1 in the fifth.

Time for a food break. Kuhn, neat in a plaid shirt and a slightly loosened tie, is careful to keep the peanut shells off the floor of the private box.

The Yankees take a 2-1 lead into the eighth. "I like 9-8 games, but this is exciting," he said. The Orioles explode for five runs. Hunter is yanked for a reliever. Kuhn applauds for the first time since the Star Spangled Banner. "I always clap for a pitcher leaving the game."

The Yankees rally in the ninth. With one out and a runner at second, Roy White pops up on a 3-4 pitch. "Why's he swinging? I would have given him the take sign."

The Orioles win 6-1.

"Baseball is an art form," Kuhn says. "I think that's why we're attracting a bigger and bigger following."

Eau Claire Wins Title

The Eau Claire Superstars won the best of three series in Olympian girls softball Tuesday at Union Park in Benton Harbor.

Eau Claire edged Stevensville 13-14 in the first game, but Stevensville came back to take the second 13-12. Eau Claire won the title game with ease, 13-3.

The 17-18 year old team which will represent Berrien county in the CanAm Games include Tammy Vlade, Eau Claire; Kim Heritz, Benton Harbor; Kathy Rodell, Eau Claire; Kathi Blackwood, Eau Claire; Marie Williams, Buchanan.

Alrene Mitchell, Coloma; Tammy Kraklan, Benton Heights; Elaine Morrison, St. Joseph; Barbara Willis, Benton Harbor; Rolanda Williams, Buchanan; Mary Wilke, Stevensville; Kim Brown, Stevensville; Patty Hoge, Baroda; Ivy Schewe, Stevensville and Lisa Manumina, Stevensville.

NETS MOVING: Roy Boe, president of the Nets, left, and Nets Coach Kevin Loughery sit behind basketball at news conference in East Rutherford, N.J., Wednesday. Boe announced that the National Basketball Association franchise, formerly based in Nassau County, N.Y., are moving to New Jersey next season following a court decision. Boe also said the team will enter into a 30-year lease with the New Jersey Sports Authority for an arena yet to be built at the Meadowlands complex in East Rutherford. (AP Wirephoto)

INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY

U.S. HALTS ALASKA OIL FLOW FOR FIFTH TIME

VALDEZ, Alaska (AP) — North Slope crude oil, for 38 days on a trouble-scattered road to the trans-Alaska pipeline's southern terminal, has been stopped for the fifth time, this time by a federal order just 15 miles short of its destination.

The cause: 14 questioned welds on pipe sections inside the terminal here.

The U.S. Department of Transportation claims the welds are faulty and don't meet federal standards. Officials of the Alyeska Pipeline Service Co. reacted angrily to what one called a "last-minute order" and said the welds are sound.

well within the Aug. 1 deadline the firm imposed on itself three years ago.

The town's two hotels are crowded with industry representatives, reporters, tourists and government observers who came for the announced arrival of the first oil.

Headed north to Valdez are two tankers — the 120,000-ton

ARCO Juneau and the 80,000-ton Soho Intrepid. The Juneau, expected to arrive Saturday, will be the first ship to carry Alaska oil to the west coast, putting it to ARCO's refinery at Cherry Point, Wash., early next month. The Intrepid is expected to reach California a few days later.

But for now, the oil is still, waiting in Keystone Canyon 15 miles away.

Transportation officials said Wednesday that Alyeska was notified about 11 claimed flaws on July 21. Since then, they said, three more faulty welds have been found — all made during final preparations to receive the oil.

Several top Alyeska executives, who asked to remain unidentified, called the order unnecessary. They said the questioned pipe sections had withstood pressures 2½ times what would be expected in normal pipeline operations.

Jack Fernite, acting director of the Transportation department's Materials Transportation Bureau, said in Washington Wednesday the faults were spotted in checks of X-ray tests. He said the telegram to Alyeska advised that the welds "required correction or resolution before the oil reached the Valdez terminal."

"We did not call up today and say, 'Stop the pipeline,'" he said. "It's not a big battle or anything. This is something we agree does not meet standards. Cutout and repair is a required procedure when cracks appear."

One Alyeska official said that the latest order would never have been issued if 13 days of delays had not occurred.

The pipeline began operations June 20 and has been beset by a series of delays following accidents attributed to human error. The most serious accident — an explosion at Pump Station No. 8 on July 8 — shut down the line for 10 days. One man was killed and the pump station was destroyed.

chapter; Robinson; Roger Morrisett, chairman of luncheon; and Tony Dascola, regional director and member of St. Joseph club. Robinson, of Rochester is scheduled to be in Southwestern Michigan tomorrow meeting Jaycee groups in the counties of Berrien, Cass and Van Buren. (Staff photo)

Two More Held In Alaska Blasts

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Three local men, neighbors along a stretch of the Elliott Highway, have been charged with last week's bombing of the trans-Alaska pipeline north of here.

State troopers and agents of the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms on Wednesday charged cook William Freeman, 21, and painter Donald Drum, 19, with malicious destruction of property, the same charge leveled the day before against Larry Wertz, 26, a local fur trapper, was arrested and accused of planting bombs on the pipeline.

Police said three bombs, probably made of commercial dynamite, were planted on the line. The blasts went off July 29, denting pipeline supports and stripping away insulation on about 20 feet of the line. Oil flow was not affected.

Drum and Freeman were being held in the Fairbanks State Jail pending arraignment.

Drum is a native of Fort Belvoir, Va., and Freeman of Dayton, Ohio, though both have lived in Alaska for many years, troopers said.

Wertz, who was caretaker at a mining claim along the highway, was arrested at his home without resistance. He once worked as a laborer on the pipeline, and is a native of Oakland, Calif.

Troopers said a search of his home turned up materials which could have been used to build a bomb.

Wertz was arraigned Wednesday before District Court Judge Herschel Critchfield, who ordered him to undergo a psychiatric examination. The judge said Wertz would be held without bail until the examination is completed.

He also set an Aug. 4 date for a preliminary hearing on the charge.

$385 RESTITUTION ORDERED

Woman Guilty Of Welfare Fraud

By DENNIS COGSWELL
Paw Paw Bureau

PAW PAW — A Bangor woman was ordered to make restitution of $385 and fined $20 Wednesday after pleading guilty in Seventh district court to a misdemeanor charge of welfare fraud.

Judge William C. Buhl also placed Rose Pressley, 47, route 2, on probation for one to two years period.

According to a report filed by the state Inspector General's office, Mrs. Pressley allegedly failed to report income she received while working at Adams Electronics, Bangor, during November and December, 1975, and January, 1976, which would have reduced the amount of ADC she was eligible for.

The $385 represented the difference between what Mrs. Pressley was eligible for and what she received, the report said.

In other cases, George H. Mete, 39, and his wife, Laura F. Mete, 37, both of Hartford, demanded preliminary examination on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. George Mete also demanded examination on charges of felonious assault and possession of a firearm while committing a felony.

Mete's bond was set at a total of $2,500, and that of his wife at $1,000. Hearings for both were scheduled for Aug. 2.

State police at Paw Paw said the charges stem from a complaint by Bobby Durosette, Royal motel, Hartford, that a man pulled a gun on him Tuesday night at the Ronald Bakers farm camp on CR-687, Keeler township.

Durosette told troopers he had gone to the camp to look for a man he knew, when another man walked up and kicked the side of his car. The man then went to a pickup truck, got a pistol, and fired a shot, Durosette told police.

Officers said Mete and his wife were arrested after they stopped a pickup truck matching the one described by Durosette on CR-687 near 96th avenue. Troopers said a .22-caliber pistol was seized.

Ricky A. Kirby, 18, 416 East Michigan avenue, Paw Paw, was released on his own recognizance after demanding preliminary examination on a charge of entering without breaking. An Aug. 2 hearing was set.

Paw Paw police said the arrest stemmed from the investigation into the theft of some gas from a barn on Johnson road near Paw Paw road early Wednesday morning.

George P. Sherwood, 51, route 4, 48th street, Paw Paw, was sentenced to 15 days in jail, fined $200, and placed on one to two years probation after pleading guilty to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants, first offense, reduced from second offense.

He had been arrested on 48th avenue in Antwerp township on June 3.

Berrien Judges Jail 8 On Misdemeanor Counts

Judges in Berrien Fifth District court sentenced eight people to jail terms yesterday for various misdemeanor offenses and ordered another person bound over to Circuit court for trial on a felony charge.

Bound over was Leonard A. Brack, 21, of 480 Cherry street, Benton Harbor, on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen property over $100 — costume jewelry rings — on Feb. 22 in Benton Harbor. He was returned to jail in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Michael C. Duncan, 21, of Michigan City, Ind., was sentenced to 90 days in jail for possession of an unregistered .25-caliber pistol — reduced from carrying concealed weapon — in New Buffalo July 17.

Thelma L. Green, 19, of 321 Main street, Watervliet, was sentenced to 10 days for receiving and concealing stolen property less than $100. The charge was reduced from the felony of receiving and concealing stolen property over $100.

She was arrested by Berrien Sheriff's officers July 17 who said they confiscated property reported stolen during a break-in the night before at the Richard Salmon residence, 3444 Bessmer road, Nagar township.

Elmer Hawkins, 37, of 234 Walnut avenue, Benton township, was sentenced to 90 days for entering without permission — reduced from breaking and entering — a garage at a house in Benton township July 15.

Donald D. Miller, 28, of 15143 Lakeside road, Lakeside, was sentenced to pay a fine and costs of $200 and serve 15 days for illegal use of amobarbital, a controlled substance, in St.

Joseph July 17.

Robert McGee, 27, of Box 80 Hochberger road, Eau Claire, was sentenced to 90 days for petty larceny — the theft of cash from Jessie Bradbury in Eau Claire July 15.

Barbara Swift, 10, of 804 Buena Vista road, Benton Harbor, was sentenced to 20 days for obtaining money under false pretenses less than $100. A charge of uttering and publishing was dismissed.

She was accused of cashing a false check for $151 at the Country store, Benton township, in November, 1976.

Frank J. Davis, 21, of 908 Chicago avenue, Benton township, was sentenced to 20 days for a probation violation — failing to pay a fine and costs of $100 due March 11. The probation came from a Feb. 23 conviction for obtaining less than $100 under false pretenses.

Raymond Ealey, 22, of 125 Ridge, Berrien Springs, was sentenced to 30 days for assault — reduced from assault and battery — on Charles Holloway in the county jail July 14. Deputies said Ealey was serving a 90-day sentence for attempted criminal sexual conduct, fourth degree.

Bruce Carter, 19, of East Chicago, Ind., was sentenced to pay $200 fine and costs for possession of an unregistered .22-caliber revolver and $100 for reckless driving on I-94 in Benton township July 17. Charges of carrying a concealed weapon and fleeing and eluding a police officer were dismissed.

Also sentenced were: Danny G. Lahm, 19, of Evergreen Park, Ill., $200 and nine months probation for possession of PCP on I-94 in Royalton township July 17.

Alfred P. Meier, 21, of 537 Winchester avenue, St. Joseph, $125 for shoplifting fish hooks from Ace Hardware, 31-139, Royalton township, April 4.

Rudney R. Cooper, 20, of Kalamazoo, $85 for attempted petty larceny — sandwiches at Church's Mobil station, St. Joseph township, on June 5.

Howard P. Welch, 32, of Kalamazoo, $155 or 30 days for driving while intoxicated in Stevensville July 27.

Robert W. Mussman, 34, of LaPorte, Ind., $75 for reckless driving in Baroda township June 5.

Sentenced for use of marijuana were Ricky L. Canby, 21, of 1875 Union street, Benton township, and Pam Light, 20, of 1516 Orchard lane, Niles, each $100.

Sentenced for impaired driving were John R. Sandona, 18, of Chicago, and Curtis Hutcheson, 42, of Pontiac, each $200; Erwin Spitzer, 55, of 201 North Front street, Dowagiac, $105; and Robert D. Shipley, 49, of Michigan City, Ind., $102.

Woman Cleared Of Charge

A charge of assault with a dangerous weapon has been dismissed in Berrien Fifth District court against Irma Booker, 39, of 1744 Crystal court, Benton township.

The charge was dismissed because the prosecutor's office has not been able to locate a witness, according to District court records. She had been accused of a knife assault on Isaac Henry in Benton Harbor April 20.

South Haven Slaying Defendant Takes Stand

By DENNIS COGSWELL

PAW PAW BUREAU

PAW PAW — Testifying in his own defense yesterday, Lee Rogers Newman Jr. said he fired a rifle only after he saw what he feared was a gun in the hand of a man who was coming toward him.

Newman testified that the instant he recognized Obie Franklin as the man who was coming at him, he thought "he (Franklin) was coming to get me. I was afraid."

"I saw something in his hand," Newman said. "I might have been a gun, I'm not positive."

The testimony came during the opening day of the defense's case in Newman's Van Buren circuit court trial on charges of murder and assault with intent to commit murder.

The charges stem from a Feb. 24 shooting outside a house at 414 Cable street, South Haven, which left dead one person and three others wounded. Newman is charged with murder in the death of Jenise Lee Perry, 17, South Haven, and with assault with intent to commit murder against Franklin, who was wounded in the arm outside the house.

The prosecution contends Miss Perry was killed by a bullet from a high powered weapon which crashed through the wall of the house and struck her as she stood inside.

Newman, 26, 437 LaGrange street, South Haven, was scheduled to finish his testimony this morning. The case was expected to go to the jury either late today or Friday.

Newman testified yesterday that he had been asked to go to the house on Cable street by Mrs. Johnson (Wendy) Gill, who wanted to visit her cousin. He said he did not want to go to the house because it was located in "the zone", a predominantly black neighborhood on the south side of South Haven, "where some rough things were always going on."

Mrs. Gill then suggested that if he was afraid, he should go home and get his guns before they went, he said. Newman said he then drove home to his house, picked up a shotgun which was already loaded, and an unloaded .30-06 rifle. From there, Mrs. Gill drove them in a borrowed car to the Cable street house, Newman said.

He said that after Mrs. Gill had gone in, he noticed several people going to and from the house. It was at that point, Newman said, that he loaded the rifle, then placed it in the back seat because he was afraid something might happen.

Several minutes later, Mrs. Gill came running outside. Newman said that within seconds, he recognized Franklin behind her and then heard a shot.

"I reached over to the back seat of the car to get the gun (rifle)," Newman testified. "As I was looking out the car window, I picked it up and it discharged (shattering the window)."

Newman said he then thought he heard several other shots as Franklin ran away.

SENTENCED: German actress Ingrid van Bergen, 46, veteran of siren roles in nearly 50 German-language films, was sentenced Wednesday in Munich to seven years imprisonment for fatal shooting of her playboy lover. Defense had acknowledged Miss Van Bergen shot 33-year-old financier Klaus Knaths last February. (AP Wirephoto)

Antique Cars Will Appear At Festival

COLOMA — The appearance of 30 antique automobiles during the 1977 Coloma Gladiolus festival, Aug. 4-7, were among several announcements made during last night's festival committee meeting.

The antique automobiles, from the Kalamazoo Antique Auto association, are slated to arrive in Coloma Saturday morning, Aug. 8, and be on display in the downtown Coloma business district from 10:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. The cars will also be in the annual Gladiolus parade.

In other announcements, Miss Debbie Ory, a 16-year-old Coloma high school junior will be the honorary parade grand marshal for the Youth parade, Thursday, Aug. 4. Ten years ago, Miss Ory was crowned fes-

At the time, I thought Obie was shooting and there were some shots coming from the house," he said.

Newman then said he heard Mrs. Gill yell that she had been shot. He said that as he tried to push her from the driver's side of the passenger side of the car, he fired off two more shots from the rifle with his left hand.

Asked by Prosecutor Ward S. Hamlin if he had shot Franklin, Newman replied, "I don't know."

Newman also denied under cross-examination that he had made statements to three police officers and Mrs. Gill that he had shot a man.

Until shortly before the shooting, Newman said he knew Franklin only casually from having talked to him over a CB radio. On Feb. 20, Newman said Franklin and two other men jumped him and beat him up.

Newman said that although he could not be sure, he believed one of the men was a prosecution witness, O.C. Echols. He said at the time, Franklin told him he was "messing around in the wrong area" and to stay out of the neighborhood.

Newman's testimony conflicted with that of Mrs. Gill and Echols. Mrs. Gill testified she had gone to the house at 414 Cable alone. Echols, who was inside the house, said he had fired two shots from a .32-caliber pistol at the car, but only after it was driving away, and not parked as Newman claimed.

Another defense witness, Charles Estel, said he had been told by Echols that he (Echols) had fired the shots from inside the house. That contradicted Echols' testimony that he was outside when he fired.

Estel also said that he had been told by Echols that it was possible that the bullet which killed Miss Perry was not from Newman's gun, and that other guns might have been involved. He said the conversation took place at the Van Buren county jail in April, where both he and Echols were serving sentences at the time.

Another jail inmate, Clyde Strong, testified Echols had written him in a note, that "he (Echols) had emptied his gun at Lee Newman and then got rid of it." Strong's testimony seemed to contradict Echols' statement that he had only fired twice.

Undercover Officer Arrests Solicitor

Herrin D. Russell, 38, was sentenced to pay a fine and costs of $125 and placed on probation for one year after he pleaded guilty yesterday to a charge of soliciting for immoral purposes.

Russell, of 1428 East Napier avenue, Benton township, was accused of soliciting an undercover policeman for "unnatural acts" at Fairplain Plaza about 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Russell was sentenced in Berrien Fifth District court by Judge Ronald J. Taylor.

Berrien Sheriff's Det. Paul Mills said the undercover officer was sent to the plaza after complaints were received that a man was telephoning people and attempting to arrange meetings with them there.

Cass Teen Arrested

SOUTH HAVEN — A Cassopolis teenager was to be arraigned in Seventh District court here today in connection with the alleged theft of a car which had been taken on a test drive from a South Haven used car dealer.

Nathan Brooks, 18, was booked at the city jail on a charge of larceny by conversion after he was arrested by Cassopolis police last night.

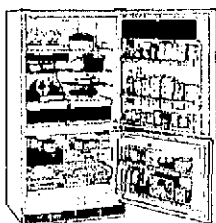

South Haven police said a man drove a car away from Decker's Used Cars, 708 LaGrange street, Tuesday afternoon after saying he was considering buying it. The dealer reported the car stolen when it was not returned later that day.

Prison Parolee Slain

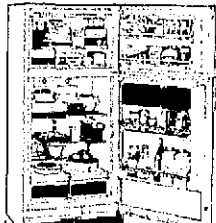

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS, Mich. (AP) — Muskegon County officials say they do not plan to charge an elderly homeowner in the slaying of a prison parolee during what the homeowner said was an attempted burglary. Officers said Johnny Vernell Lewis, 27, died about an hour after being shot in the chest with a shotgun by 71-year-old Willie Harris late Tuesday. Lewis had a long record of arrests dating from 1968, police said. The county prosecutor's office said the shooting seemed justified and it plans no charges against Harris. Harris told police he was preparing for bed just before midnight when he heard the screen being slashed on a back door. Harris said he took a 16-gauge shotgun he keeps loaded in the bedroom and went to the door. The old man said he tried to push the door closed when someone tried to enter but was shoved aside. "I just stuck out my gun and pulled the trigger," Harris said afterward.

GOP Seeks Teen Camp Applicants

DOWAGIAC — Atty. Herbert Phillips, Jr., Cass county Republican party chairman, has asked for applicants for the 13th annual New Republican camp to be held Aug. 29 to Sept. 2 at Camp Capneconic, just south of Flint.

Phillips said that any boy or girl in their teens may apply and expenses will be paid for by the Cass County Republican committee. Applicants will be selected on the basis of interest shown, sincerity and general attitude.

In their letter of application, it is suggested that they tell why they would like to attend the camp and why they feel that their interest in politics would be helped by the camp.

At the camp, they will have an opportunity of meeting some of the key people in the Republican party in Michigan including possibly Sen. Robert Griffin, Gov. William Milliken, Congressman David Stockman, Congressman Gay VanderJagt, and Rep. Dennis Cawthorne. Swimming, volleyball and other activities will be planned as well as a mock legislative session giving insight into the legislative process. The director of the camp is Al Hellus who is the Eighth district youth vice-chairman.

Any teenager interested in attending should write his letter to the Cass County Republican Committee, in care of Herbert Phillips, Jr., Chairman, P.O. Box 339, Dowagiac, Michigan 49047.

Andrews Prof Going To Israel

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Dr. James J. C. Cox, professor of New Testament at Andrews University's theological seminary here, has been invited by the Albright Institute of Archaeological Research in Jerusalem to assume the post of annual professor from August to December.

The Albright Institute is a branch of the American Schools of Oriental Research. Dr. Cox will be visiting two of Albright's sister institutes of archeology in Tunis and Amman while enroute to Jerusalem.

Dr. Cox's duties will include supervising archeological field trips and directing seminars. He will also study with world renowned experts in Coptic and Syriac literature.

In December, Dr. Cox will travel to Australia to serve as a visiting professor at Avondale college, a sister institution of Andrews University. He will return to Andrews in March.

Bloodmobile To Visit Lawrence

LAWRENCE — The Red Cross bloodmobile is scheduled to be in Lawrence, Aug. 1, from 1 to 7 p.m., to accept donations. The bloodmobile will be at the Lawrence township fire station, according to Mrs. Dennis (Joyce) Harrington.

General Telephone Directory Cover Features Fishing Scene

DOWAGIAC — A scene of two boys fishing the famous Au Sauble river at Flashlight Bend in Crawford county is featured on the front cover of General Telephone's new expanded directory, now being mailed to customers in the communities of Cassopolis, Decatur, Dowagiac, Edwardsburg, Sister Lakes, Union, and Vandalia, according to Les Moench, division manager for the company here.

"The directory will be larger this year because of additional white and yellow page listings and four new information pages

The name, address and telephone numbers of gas, electric and water utilities, as well as the telephone company, now appear on page 4 as a convenience to customers who may want to inquire about service or report a problem.

consumer services division of the Michigan Public Service Commission also appears on page 4.

Page 8 includes the detailed explanation of the telephone bill.

An entire new section on customer rights and responsibilities has been included on pages 9 through 11 and the general information once included on page 8 can now be found on page 12.

"Questions concerning the directory, or any other phase of telephone service, should be directed to the General Telephone business office," Moench said.

SMC To Offer 32 Courses At Its Extension Centers

DOWAGIAC — Thirty-two college courses, all carrying regular college credit which may be applied toward an associate degree, are being offered for the fall semester by Southwestern Michigan College.

He's First Bilingual Plan Grad

BERRIEN SPRINGS — Ismael Olivares, director of migrant education in Berrien Springs since 1969, has received the first bilingual endorsement in Spanish through bilingual education minors program at Andrews University here.

The program, approved by the Michigan Department of Education, prepares teachers to work in a bilingual classroom, and is available at Andrews in Spanish, German, and French.

The three-part program tests proficiency in both English and the second language, introduces language teaching techniques, and deals with various aspects of culture surrounding the second language.

Olivares received an MA degree in school administration from Andrews in 1973. He is a member of the Andrews university chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, the honors society for educators.

Gas Prices Holding At Record High

DETROIT (AP) — The average price of regular gasoline remained at 65.9 cents a gallon this week, equalling last week's record high, the Automobile Club of Michigan reported. The auto club's weekly survey of 300 major brand stations on main tourist routes across Michigan showed the price of regular gasoline ranged from 57.9 to 74.9 cents. Unleaded fuel also equaled last week's record high average price of 68.7 cents per gallon. The price ranged from 60.9 to 76.9 cents.

at seven area extension centers in southwestern Michigan. The college's main campus is located here.

Most extension courses meet once or twice per week, during the evening, and carry three or four semester hours of college credit.

Extension courses are available at Decatur, Paw Paw, Lawrence, Niles, Edwardsburg, Cassopolis and Jones.

In-district residents enrolling in extension courses pay $10 per credit hour, while all other extension students pay $15 per credit hour.

Students may enroll for both extension courses and courses conducted on the SMC campus. The fall semester courses at all locations begin September 9, and continue through mid-December.

Pre-registration for all courses is now being conducted in the SMC admissions office each weekday between 9 a.m. and noon and 1 p.m. until 4 p.m. Regular registration for the fall semester courses will be conducted Sept. 6 and 7, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. until 8:30 p.m. each day.

Persons interested in enrolling in extension courses may call the SMC admissions office for registration materials.

Russ Say U.S.

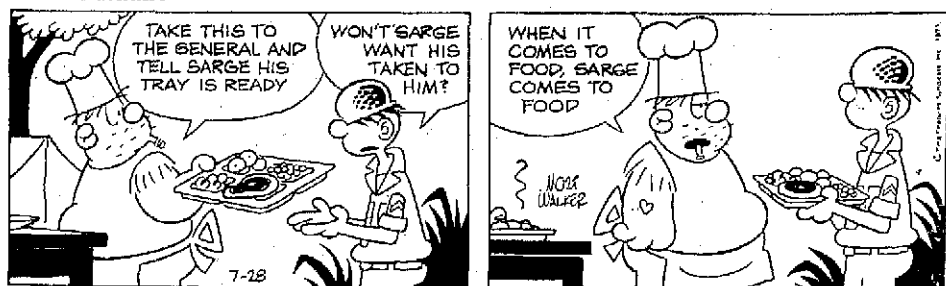

Dumped Presley

MOSCOW (AP) - To hear the Soviets tell it, rock star Elvis Presley is now a broken and forgotten man demonstrating the heartlessness of the American system of exploitation.

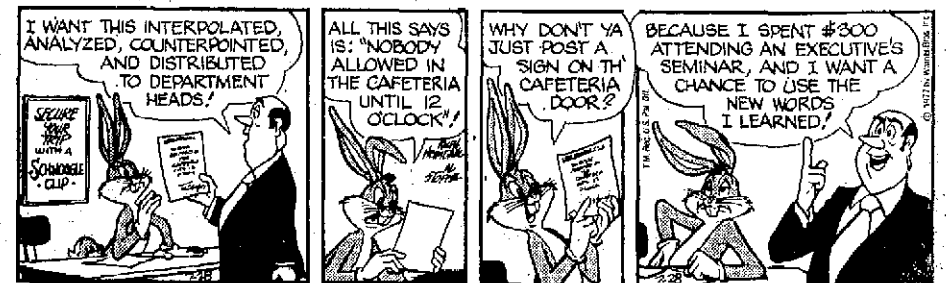

Ageing and overweight, the former "king of rock" has been "mercilessly tossed onto the scrap heap of those who have gone out of fashion," the Literary Gazette, a Soviet journal, said Wednesday.

NEWS OF MARKETS

Stocks Continue Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices declined broadly today, resuming Wednesday's slide. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials gave up nearly a point in early trading. Losers led gainers by close to a 3-1 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues. Analysts said the market was still feeling the aftershocks of the selloff that dealt the Dow its largest setback in more than two years on Wednesday. Wall Street was bracing for, meanwhile, for some expected negative news Friday when the government makes its monthly report on the index of leading economic indicators. Bethlehem Steel dropped 1/2 in 2 3/4 after a 5 1/2-point dive Wednesday, when the company reported sharply lower second quarter earnings and halved its dividend. On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average fell 19.73 to 888.43, its lowest close since it finished at 877.83 on Jan. 5, 1976. It was the average's largest loss since it dropped 20.88 points on May 6, 1975. Losers swamped gainers by a 5-1 margin on the NYSE. Big Board volume reached 26.44 million shares, up from 21.39 million on Tuesday. The NYSE's composite index tumbled .89 to 54.08.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index skidded 1.80 to 129.89. The market in brief shows the NYSE stock exchange issues consolidated trading Wednesday, July 7. The market was up 262 points, down 271 points, and unchanged 320 points. The NYSE index was 54.08, down 0.89. The S & P Comp. was 95.64, down 1.13. The Dow Jones was 888.43, down 19.73.

SHARP DROP: Stock market suffered sharpest drop of the year Wednesday in a selloff that left Dow Jones industrial average at an 18-month low. Market reportedly was unsettled by fears government economic report Friday would heighten expectations of economic slowdown ahead. Dow average fell 19.73 points to 888.43, low since the 877.83 of Jan. 5, 1976. Volume was 26.44 million shares, up from 21.39 million Tuesday. (AP Wirephoto)

Bendix Plans New Foundry
SOUTHFIELD, Mich. (AP) — Construction will begin soon on an iron foundry in Farmham, Quebec, to be operated jointly by the Bendix Corp. and Haley Industries Ltd. of Orillia, Ont., officials said Wednesday. The 110,000-square-foot foundry will employ some 330 persons and process over 20,000 tons of ductile iron per year when fully operational. Bendix Automotive Group President Douglas Crane said. Haley supplies magnesium and aluminum castings to North American and European aerospace firms. Bendix supplies the automotive, aerospace-electronics, shelter and industrial energy industries.

On Dean's List
Carla Jean Companion, a Lake Michigan College student from Bridgman, has been added to the LMC Dean's List for her excellent academic work during second semester, 1976-1977, according to college officials. Miss Companion earlier was listed by the college as an Academic Honorable Mention student. Dean's List students are those earning a grade point average of 3.5 or higher on a 4 scale while taking 12 or more semester hours.

BUSINESSMAN DIES
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Leo L. Weil, a prominent Louisville businessman who was once one of the key private seafood wholesalers in the nation, died Wednesday night. He was 80. He was an organizer of the American Seafood Distributors Association and a director of the National Fisheries Institute.

Utility Asks Gas Plan OK
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Consumers Power Co. has become the second utility in Michigan to ask permission to start a massive natural gas conservation program in customers' homes. The proposal Consumers submitted Wednesday to the state Public Service Commission differs in one major respect from that suggested by Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. earlier this year. Both would provide loans to customers who install insulation or gas-saving furnace devices in their homes. Customers would pay back the loans over several years. Consumers estimates a 1,250 square-foot home with no insulation would save $230 annually on gas if wall and ceiling insulation were installed. The estimated $600 cost of the insulation would be paid back over 10 years. Michigan Consolidated would spread the interest on the loans and the administrative costs of the program to all its gas customers, even those who had nothing new installed in their homes. Consumers, however, would levy those costs against only new customers and those who take the gas-saving steps. Thus, the interest and administrative costs would be shared by fewer people and those sharing them would have to pay more. A spokesman for the Jackson-based utility said the company felt there could be legal problems if the cost of the program were charged to everyone, including those who already have insulated their homes. That method of financing millions of dollars of loans was suggested by the PSC staff. But it has become controversial lately. U.S. Rep. John Dingell of Detroit has inserted amendments in President Carter's energy package that would prohibit a utility from charging customers who don't actually benefit from a conservation program. That has drawn the ire of the PSC, which says Dingell's efforts have thwarted its attempt to get the program going. The Community Action Program (CAP) Council of the United Auto Workers has endorsed the PSC plan of spreading the program's cost to everyone. Under that plan, non-participants in the program would pay no more than $10 more a year, PSC staff members say. The PSC staff justifies spreading interest and administrative costs to everyone by pointing out that all customers will benefit from the conserved gas. It is much cheaper to save gas than to tap new wells, they say.

SPECIAL SCHOOL ELECTION

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION OF THE ELECTORS OF HARTFORD PUBLIC SCHOOLS, VAN BUREN COUNTY, MICHIGAN TO BE HELD AUGUST 8, 1977 TO THE ELECTORS OF THE SCHOOL DISTRICT.

Please Take Notice that a special election of Hartford Public Schools, Van Buren County, Michigan, will be held in the High School Lobby, on Monday, August 8, 1977.

THE POLLS OF ELECTION WILL OPEN AT 7:00 O'CLOCK, A.M. AND CLOSE AT 8:00 O'CLOCK, P.M.

I. MILLAGE RENEWAL PROPOSITION

Shall the limitation on the amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in Hartford Public Schools, Van Buren County, Michigan, be increased by 6 mills ($6.00 on each $1,000.00 of state equalized valuation) for a period of 3 years, 1977, 1978 and 1979, for the purpose of providing additional funds for operating purposes (this being a renewal of 6 mills for operating purposes which expired with the 1976 tax levy)?

II. ADDITIONAL MILLAGE PROPOSITION

Shall the limitation on the amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in Hartford Public Schools, Van Buren County, Michigan, be increased by 3 mills ($3.00 on each $1,000.00 of state equalized valuation) for a period of 3 years, 1977, 1978 and 1979, for the purpose of providing additional funds for operating purposes (this being a separate proposal in addition to the increase submitted in Proposition I at this same election)?

All school electors who are registered with the city or township clerk of the city or township in which they reside are eligible to vote at this election.

I, A.A. Smith, Treasurer of Van Buren County, Michigan, hereby certify that, as of June 27, 1977, the records of this Office indicate that the total of all voted increases over and above the tax limitation established by the Constitution of Michigan, in any local units of government affecting the taxable property located in Hartford Public Schools, Van Buren County, Michigan, is as follows:

Rocky's Gift: A Hard Candy

BIG TIPPER: One of the world's richest men, Nelson Rockefeller, isn't one of the world's big spenders. Rocky returned to his Fifth Avenue cooperative apartment from a testimonial dinner recently and greeted one of the building employees affably. He shook his hand, pressing something inside and said: "Here's something for you." The man was surprised and delighted. After Rocky went up in the elevator, the man looked in his hand and was startled to find a hard candy which Rockefeller had taken from the banquet.

Q: Thus, Currie Fisher's big success in "Star Wars" made her rich? — I. B. Spokane, Wash.

A: Currie got a percentage of the movie but her share hasn't made her rich yet. Her mother, Debbie Reynolds, still gives her an allowance and also has been paying Currie's public relations people.

QUESTION YOU CERTAINLY WOULDN'T ASK: Doesn't Jimmy Carter understand what the word "priority" means? According to Speaker of the House Tip O'Neill, the answer is, he doesn't. When O'Neill asked Carter for a priority list of bills he wants passed this year, the President sent back a 70-item list including just about every legislative proposal he's ever made. Having time left for about six more major bills this session, Congress will make up its own priorities.

Q: Since so many readers write in about Julie Andrews, don't producers get the word she's still loved by the public? Is there any chance she might be working more in anything — movies, TV, stage? — S. F., Rochester, N.Y.

A: Julie loves the reader response but she'd love a good role even more. However, she does plan a big concert tour in the U.S., kicking off Aug. 21 at the Westchester Premier theater just north of New York City. That might lead to a Broadway show, particularly since husband Blake Edwards has been holding meetings with Broadway's David Merrick.

PLAYBOY ON A BUDGET: Business managers for Ryan O'Neal have warned him he's spending too much money on girlfriends and trips to Acapulco and New York. O'Neal hasn't had a big movie in awhile and it took six months to finalize his deal to do "The Driver," co-starring Bruce Dern.

Q: I know that Ingmar Bergman and Liv Ullmann have a young daughter born out of wedlock, but does the famous director have other children? — D. K., Pittsburgh, Pa.

A: Bergman has another daughter, Anna, from his first marriage, before his affair with Liv. She is now 25 and a struggling actress in London, but not close to her father. Rumor has it that she would like nothing better than to work under his direction but he strongly disapproves of some of her work in what he considers porno movies.
